Phone Strike May Be Averted Today

NEW YORK (AP) — A spokesman for the Western Electric Co. says he sees a strong possibility that negotiations today with telephone equipment installers will lead to agreement and avert a nationwide strike set for Monday.

In Washington yesterday, Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America, announced that 54,000 CWA members would walk off their jobs at 6 a. m. Monday in all states except Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire. Also affected would be the District of Columbia.

In New York last night a spokesman for WE, manufacturing arm of the Bell Telephone System, said at the end of a negotiations session:

"The union indicated a strong possibility of a break in the deadlock tomorrow, at the resumption of bargaining."

If this should happen, the spokesman said, "we have every reason to believe that a settlement can be reached well before Monday."

Beirne said that, in event of a strike, picketing of exchanges in major cities would keep about 146,000 other telephone workers, including operators, from their jobs.

The union has been working without a contract since Aug. 26. The membership authorized a strike, but no date had been set until yesterday.

CWA workers make and install telephone office equipment. A strike would have little immediate effect on local telephone service in communities with dial systems, except in event of equipment breakdown. A walkout probably could cripple long distance phoning.

The dispute centers mainly over wages and length of a new contract.

Beirne said management has offered wage increases averaging about 9 cents an hour. He said the union wants an average boost of 11½ cents. The company has been demanding a three-year contract, while the CWA seeks a one-year pact.

2nd Ex-Policeman Changes Mind

Admits to 2 Counts Of 10 in Indictment

Former Special Patrolman Gerard McCloskey, 34, of 40 Condie Street, entered a plea of guilty to two counts of a 10-count indictment this morning in County Court. Sentence will be imposed at 2 p. m. on September 25.

McCloskey is the second police officer to plead guilty to counts of burglary and unlawful entry under indictments returned by the present Grand Jury.

The plea of guilty was entered to the seventh and tenth counts of the indictment. The seventh count alleged entrance to the Kingston Lumber Company premises on Fair Street Extension on June 18, and charged burglary, third degree, a felony.

The tenth count alleged unlawful entry to the Livingston and LeFever premises on Field Court on July 8. This is a misdemeanor.

Changes Former Plea

At the opening of County Court, Charles J. Saccoman, counsel for McCloskey announced the defendant desired to change his former plea of innocent and enter a plea of guilty to the two counts. There are five burglary counts and five unlawful entry counts in the indictment.

District Attorney Howard C. St. John told the court the plea was acceptable to The People. Judge Bruhn then announced sentence would be on September 25 and continued bail until that time.

Two Jurors Chosen

The plea came after two jurors had been seated in the jury box. They were Mrs. Florence D. Hageney, Mt. Pleasant, a housewife, and Miss Margaret M. Martin of 34 Taylor Street, Kingston, a dressmaker. Mrs. Hageney on the examination said her son-in-law was a police officer in New York City and Miss Martin said she was a relative of Lieut. James Martin, a retired Kingston police officer.

Wednesday six prospective jurors were examined before the two were announced acceptable to the prosecution and the defendant.

Won't Move Case Up

Following the plea of McCloskey, John J. Schick, appearing of counsel for Aaron Klein, attorney for George W. Dohnken, another of the suspended policemen, announced the Dohnken case was ready for trial and he moved the case for immediate trial, saying that no other case was ready at this time and the defendant desired to have his case tried now. The Dohnken case is the eighth case on the present criminal calendar.

Judge Bruhn said the case would be tried at this term and declined to place the case on trial, saying that no preference would be granted and the case

Harriman Names 9 to Advise on Welfare Funds

ALBANY (AP) — Gov. Harriman has appointed a nine-member advisory committee to work with the state agencies that keep an eye on employe welfare funds.

The governor also recommended yesterday that such an advisory committee be established by law.

The committee will advise the Banking, Insurance and Labor Departments on welfare fund matters and will consider, with the departments, changes and improvements in the welfare fund law, Harriman said.

Frank L. Weil, a Manhattan lawyer, was named by Harriman as chairman of the unsalaried group.

Some Not Controlled

Pension and welfare funds operated jointly by management and labor were brought under state control by Republican-drawn legislation enacted last year.

The Democratic governor said he had asked the Legislature at that time also to bring under state control funds administered unilaterally—that is, either by management or labor.

The governor's office said that about 1,000 jointly administered funds were under state control and that about 2,000 unilaterally managed funds were not. Total assets of both types of funds are estimated at more than 14 billion dollars, the office said.

Represent Savings

The funds "represent the hopes and savings of hundreds of thousands of working men and women," Harriman said.

Weil, a former president of the National Institute of Social Relations and the National Social Welfare Assembly, was designated as a public member of the committee.

Other public members are Paul R. Hays, law professor at Columbia University Law School.

Sets of Representatives

Designated labor representatives were: John J. Brennan, secretary-treasurer of the Building and Construction Trades Council of New York City; Wilbur Daniels, associate general counsel to the International Ladies Garment Workers Union; and William J. Issacson, general counsel of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

Designated management representatives were: Wallace B. Duncke1, vice president of the Bankers Trust Co. of New York City; Gilbert W. Fitzhugh, a vice president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in New York; and Robert R. Logan of Kenmore, a Buffalo suburb, executive vice president of the Construction Industry Employers Assn.

Ike, Faubus Talk Saturday

President Eisenhower and Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus arranged today to confer in Newport, R. I., Saturday in an effort to crack the federal-state deadlock over Little Rock school integration.

The arrangements for the unusual session began yesterday.

Meters Would Reduce Consumption Of Water 25 PC Aldermen Are Told

River Is Supplying Highland

Kerhonkson Lays Pipes to Creek

Hudson river water is being "piled up" in storage in the Highland Water District and pipe from Rondout creek is being laid steadily toward the Kerhonkson reservoir—a distance of some 3,000 feet—in emergency measures to meet current water shortages in those two communities.

The crisis was apparently over in the Highland area as the water level in Reservoir No. 4 rose steadily.

2,000 Feet to Go

About 1,000 feet of Civil Defense piping from Wingdale stockpiles had been laid in Kerhonkson as of 4 p. m. yesterday. About 2,000 feet more must be laid to reach the reservoir. Pumping equipment is reported to be in position.

It was reported today that trucks were continuing to haul water from Mettacahonts to the Kerhonkson reservoir and the swimming pool which supplies current needs of Kerhonkson High School. The hauling is reportedly keeping pace with water consumption.

Well for School

In another measure to meet the emergency a well is being drilled at the rear of the school. The drills have penetrated about 50 feet on Wednesday.

The Ulster County Highway Department delivered the last of the piping to Kerhonkson yesterday, it was reported. The pipe has been loaned from Civil Defense stockpiles at Wingdale.

Pipe had been laid almost from the creek to Main Street on Wednesday. The last 2,000 feet will be uphill.

Up 22 Inches

A total rise of 22 inches in Reservoir No. 4 in the Highland area was reported as of noon

3 Candidates Are Named for Wards By New Party

Three candidates for aldermen were announced today by headquarters of the Economy Party at 694 Broadway.

Second ward—Frank (Bing) Van Etten, 75 Kiersted Avenue.

Ninth ward—Milton Friedman, 83 Andrew Street.

Pleased With Choice

Rider, retired manager of Kingston Oil Supply, who owns the Kingston Heating Co., Wilbur Avenue, and operates it through a management system, said "we are pleased to announce the names of these candidates, all of whom are in the business field.

Van Etten, remembered as one of the city's best known athletes, is a salesman for Ramapo Wine

Prayers Asked For Rain by Mayor Stang

Mayor Frederick H. Stang today called on people of all faiths to gather in their places of worship and pray for drouth-easing rain.

The mayor's appeal for prayer follows:

"Water, a commodity that we accept as a matter of course, has suddenly become one of the utmost importance. The old saying, 'You never miss the water til the well runs dry' is brought home to us very forcibly.

"Somewhere it was said, 'Man's greatest gift from heaven is water.' Let us therefore turn to Heaven in our present emergency.

"May I suggest that our peoples of all faiths gather in their several places of worship to evoke the aid of God for His help in our need."

President Scores Radio, TV Over Faubus Comment

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—On orders from President Eisenhower, the White House today sharply denounced what it termed "radio and television comment" saying Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus had "thrown in the sponge" in the school integration crisis.

The criticism was voiced by James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, who told newsmen the President personally had directed him to hit at such reports.

Awaits Parley Date

Hagerty spoke out angrily at a news conference at the President's vacation headquarters as Eisenhower awaited word from Faubus fixing the time for a face-to-face meeting here.

The Arkansas governor proposed such a conference yesterday, suggesting he and Eisenhower "counsel together" in an effort to smash the federal-state deadlock over the integration impasse in Little Rock, Ark.

Eisenhower swiftly accepted the Faubus proposal and suggested they confer here tomorrow afternoon or Saturday morning.

Hagerty was in an obviously angry mood when he started today's news conference.

He said he and the President had been "listening to some radio and television comment" on the Faubus proposal that Faubus and Eisenhower meet.

The press secretary said he and Eisenhower had heard "White House aides" being quoted on radio and television as saying Faubus was "throwing in the sponge."

Hagerty went on to say they also had heard "a great deal of other junk" on the air.

Newscasts Not Named

He did not identify the TV and radio newscasts. The indications were that the White House aides of whom Hagerty spoke had not

Low Water Puts Ban On All Car Washing

All car washing — both by commercial establishments and private individuals — has been banned for the duration of the present water shortage.

The Water Board made the decision at a special session of the Common Council last night, which was called to discuss information on the proposed installation of meters in the city, but, at which, the subject of car washing became a tangent of considerable discussion.

Spearheading the request to ban commercial car washing was Alderman William K. Bodenweber (D) ninth ward.

Permitted Till Now

The board, in announcing its decision, noted that a list of six restrictions announced Monday in an effort to conserve water during the present crisis permitted commercial establishments to temporarily continue the practice.

It was agreed, in granting Bodenweber's request, that banning commercial car washing for the duration of the shortage would result in a considerable saving of water.

Criticizes Setup

Car washing by private individuals was banned in the six restrictions published Monday by the board.

Bodenweber said the restriction banning private persons from washing their cars and another permitting commercial establishments to do car washing were not compatible.

"I can't see where we're saving water when I'm not allowed to wash my car, but can take it down to the corner gas station and have it washed," Bodenweber said.

Hoped for Cooperation

Commissioner Benjamin Schecter explained that in an emergency all car washing is banned. He said the restrictions were imposed in the hope that "for the good of our city" residents will voluntarily make every effort to conserve water.

He indicated that it would be impossible for the Water Board to "go around and check on every person washing his car. We can't be an inspector for every citizen of the city of Kingston."

Bodenweber said it was not his intention to deprive a businessman "solely engaged in the washing of cars as a livelihood," but he felt, in the majority of cases, car washing was done by garages and gas stations not exclusively engaged in such work.

Bodenweber was joined in his request for the car washing ban by Aldermen Richard Roth (R) 12th ward, James K. Ryan (D) 10th ward, Samuel J. Perry (R) fifth ward and George McArdle (R) 13th ward.

Meteorologist Encouraging

Equinoctial Rain Due After Sept. 21

That the area may reasonably expect helpful rains shortly after Sept. 21—according to the best meteorological estimates—was the cheerful forecast made today by John Salapatis, of 25 Harding Avenue, assistant city engineer.

While many accept Mark Twain's sage comment "everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it," Salapatis, who served in the Air Force as meteorologist, is a veritable compendium on the subject.

In World War II and the Korean conflict, Salapatis served as meteorologist with the Air Force from 1947 to 1953 at Mitchell Field L. I., and Yokota, Japan with the 56th Strategic Reconnaissance Squadron flying combat, synoptic and typhoon reconnaissance.

Gives Explanation

Interpreted at the layman's level, the following is Salapatis' explanation of conditions which, he said, "by an educated guess" should result in drought-easing rainfall in about 10 days:

"As soon as the sun crosses the autumnal equinox we should be getting conditions where polar fronts will no longer penetrate beyond the equator. The 'permanent' high pressure cell—Bermuda high—will shift south and westward, permitting fronts to move out off the Atlantic coast with ease and not being blocked by the Bermuda high cell.

Land Warmer Than Water

259 For Klein

The Liberal party also recorded a vote of 29 for Edwin Radel, the Democratic candidate for mayor, against 11 for Bernhardt S. Kramer, the Republican nominee.

Ike, Faubus Talk Seen Vital to Integration

By The Associated Press

The federal-state deadlock over school integration in Little Rock, Ark., will be discussed tomorrow or Saturday when Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas and President Eisenhower hold a dramatic face-to-face meeting at Newport, R. I.

The unusual session was arranged yesterday during a day marked by sporadic violence and a general lessening of tension in southern localities where efforts to mix the races in classrooms have roused bitter feelings.

Faubus asked for the meeting in a telegram and Eisenhower accepted immediately. The talks may help decide the future of public school integration in the south.

The Arkansas governor messaged the President that he wanted to abide by court orders directing integration at Little Rock's Central High School "consistent with my responsibilities under the Constitution of the United States and that of Arkansas."

The struggle between the federal government and the state arose after Faubus called out the National Guard Sept. 2 to prevent violence and to keep Negroes out of the high school. A federal judge ordered the governor to show why the troops should not be removed and set Sept. 20 as the date for a hearing on a temporary injunction.

Plans Are Incomplete At Present

Facts Promised Before Jan. 1st

Installation of a meter system in the city would reduce water consumption by at least 25 per cent and would result in a saving of approximately one and a half million gallons per day, the Water Board told the Common Council at a special session last night.

The meeting was called by Democratic aldermen to secure more information on the proposed installation of water meters.

Representing the Water Board at last night's session were President Howard S. Pangburn, Commissioners Benjamin Schecter, Paul Schatzel, Abram D. Relyea and Superintendent Edmund T. Cloonan.

Pangburn stressed that plans were incomplete.

To Install in January

"We hope to commence installation of meters shortly after Jan. 1, 1958 and we shall present full details and information to the public at the earliest possible date," he said.

Pangburn said the water commissioners recognized the fact that the public is interested in its plan to install a universal metering program or system.

"However, I am expressing the feeling of all the commissioners when I say that we feel that your request is politically inspired," Pangburn said.

Denies Politics

Alderman James K. Ryan (D) 10th ward said the call for the special session was not a political expedient "but merely to get the facts on the proposal."

Pangburn said the board planned to give the public "full, complete and detailed information" on its plans "as soon as such information was available," but plans are still in a formative stage "although a great deal of time and effort have been devoted to the work up to the present time."

1,000 Already Metered

He noted that approximately 1,000 homes, business and industries in the city "are presently metered."

Pangburn said water use studies have "uniformly confirmed one fact" that metering in any community "always" results in a substantial reduction of water consumption.

'It's our confirmed opinion that the installation of a meter system in Kingston will reduce water consumption by at least 25 per cent. This would mean the saving of approximately one and half million gallons per day."

Newburgh Saves Water

Pangburn drew a comparison with the city of Newburgh, which installed meters in 1935, and noted its consumption dropped from four million gallons to three million gallons per day.

Newburgh, with a present population of 35,000, is presently using an average of 3,600,000 gallons per day including an industrial consumption of approximately one million gallons per day, he said.

"Here in the city of Kingston, with a population of 29,000 our daily consumption averages over five million gallons per day, including all industrial use," Pangburn noted.

20-Year Study

Similar figures could be cited in the village of Saugerties and other communities, Pangburn said.

"The Water Board has made many studies during the past 20 years looking toward additional water supply and has come to the conclusion that the cost of procuring any substantial additional supply would be prohibi-

Soviet Says Real World Tragedy Is Over Integration

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet newspaper said today the world should turn its attention to the segregation troubles in the United States instead of Hungary.

An article in Soviet Russia "white faces, black souls" reported on school integration troubles in Nashville, Tenn., and Little Rock, Ark. It added that the government of the United States goes no further than expressing its regrets.

"The troubadours of imperialistic propaganda," said Soviet Russia, should talk about "the real tragedy taking place in the United States" instead of shouting so much about Hungary.

Dulles Urges Sacrifices By America to Keep Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles called today for wartime-like sacrifices by Americans "if we are not to have a war."

Dulles addressed a meeting of employes of the International Cooperation Administration, the agency that handles U. S. foreign aid programs.

His appearance marked the symbolic changeover in supervision of the agency. Ex-Navy combat pilot James H. Smith Jr., 47, is succeeding John B. Hollister, 66, although Smith won't take the oath of office until early October.

Dulles pledges "continuing close and intimate relations" between ICA and the State Department. He praised Hollister for having left an "attractive, agreeable, remunerative" law practice in Cincinnati to head ICA during the past two years. Dulles said he was most happy over Smith's acceptance of the administrator's post.

Dulles commented that patriotic sacrifices are expected of people in time of war. He added:

"The essential thing now, if we are not to have a war, is to have people make such sacrifices to keep the peace.

"I hope the time will come when people who make sacrifices to preserve the peace will have the honor and glory bestowed on them as are given for such sacrifices in time of war."

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — They started calling him "Old Jim" as a joke when, at 15, he was hired by the firm as a junior office boy.

They were still calling him "Old Jim" when, 50 years later, he was retired — much against his will —as head clerk. But they were no longer joking.

Old Jim was proud of the gold watch and $500 farewell check the firm gave him. But he didn't quite know what to do with the leather traveling bag the office staff had presented him.

"After all, where am I going? He asked his wife, Mary. "Where can a man go when he's 65, and they tell him they don't need him anymore?"

"I don't know where you're going, Jim," replied his wife, "but I know where I'm going."

"Where?" asked Jim, surprised.

"Out to get a job," said Mary. "After all, I'm only 60 myself. We could scrimp along with your pension, but a little extra money wouldn't hurt."

"Is that the only reason you want to go to work?" asked her husband gently.

Didn't Want Change

"No, Jim, it isn't," said Mary. "To tell you the full truth, I've had the house to myself during the day all these years we've been married. I just don't think I'd like it to have a man around underfoot all the time — and maybe finding fault with the way I do things."

It was the worst blow of Old Jim's life when Mary came home a few nights later and announced she had found a job at $200 a month in the town library.

"Retirement makes a man smaller," he said.

Old Jim felt even smaller the first day Mary, happy as a girl in kindergarten, went off to work. He moped and felt useless and sorry for himself.

But after a few days of hopeless misery he pulled himself together and set out to make his own brave new world. He rose first, fixed Mary her breakfast, and after she was gone did the dishes, and spent the morning cleaning the small white cottage until it shone.

When Mary came home for lunch, bubbling with news of books, Old Jim had her meal set out on the table.

In the afternoon he went to the town park. At first he merely sat on a bench alone, warming his old bones in the hot sun, as he puffed at his pipe and dreamed of times gone by. But gradually he made cronies of other oldtimers and gathered in the park, and it was a great day when he beat crotchety, 83-year-old Joe Hoskins, the Spanish-American war veteran, for the checker championship.

Enjoys Contentment

As the golden years passed one by one Old Jim came to enjoy a contentment he had never known before. He liked cooking the morning and mid-day meals, the hours alone fixing up their small home, the long afternoons of endless gossip with his time-bypassed friends, the pleasant evenings spent listening to Mary's tales of the library.

Then one night his new world suddenly blew up.

"Jim, this was my last day at the library," said Mary. I'm 65 now, and the board said I'd have to leave."

The next morning Mary, stretching luxuriously with a wonderful feeling of idleness, awoke to find no breakfast waiting. Old Jim, dressed in his best suit, was just going out the door.

"Where are you going?"

"Out to look for a job?"

"At 70?" asked Mary. "Why? We don't need the money."

"Well, to tell you the truth," said Old Jim, "for the last five years I've had this place to myself during the day. At my age I'll be darned if I want a woman underfoot all the time — sitting around and picking holes in the way I keep house!"

Plattsburgh Marks Battle of 1812 Date

PLATTSBURGH (AP)—The grandson of Commodore Thomas MacDonough was on hand yesterday as this city marked the 143rd anniversary of an important battle in the War of 1812.

Rodney MacDonough, 84, of Newark, N. J., laid a wreath before a monument of his grandfather, commander of the victorious forces in the naval phase of the battle of Plattsburgh, Sept. 11, 1814.

About 200 persons traveled in a parade of motorboats to a point about a mile off shore in Lake Champlain where the encounter took place. Wreaths were thrown into the water from a large raft.

John P. Ross, a historian from nearby Rouses Point, said in a luncheon talk that the battle prevented an invasion of the United States by British forces advancing from Canada and thus was a turning point in the war.

All church bells, whistles and sirens in the city were sounded for five minutes to reenact the rejoicing of the city in 1814 when it became known that the battle had been won.

MARINETTE, Wis. (AP)—Robert B. Goodman, 86, a pioneer in modern forest management in the United States, died yesterday in Marinette General Hospital.

Goodman was recognized nationally for outstanding achievement in forestry and conservation. He was a former chairman of the Wisconsin Conservation Commission, a graduate of Cornell University, and held honorary degrees from Syracuse University and the University of Wisconsin.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, and a daughter, Mrs. Casper Cottrell of Ithaca, N. Y.

Funeral services will be held here Friday.

Drivers Close School

DOLGEVILLE (AP)—The board of education says the central school here will not be opened today because of a walkout by the school bus drivers.

The board made the announcement last night after meeting with the drivers. The board said the drivers rejected a compromise in a dispute involving the hiring of a driver-custodian.

The school is a combined elementary and high school serving several farm communities in Herkimer County.

Submarine Play Torpedoes East

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The late Walter F. Wyman of Boston was one of our greatest card players and most interesting writers. Today's hand was played by Walter in the very early days of contract and illustrates how to develop a squeeze play by losing a trick deliberately.

Walter won the opening heart lead in dummy and East discarded a low spade. Walter assumed that East must have started with five spades to make this play so that spades would still be stopped. This left him with only 11 tricks and a squeeze would be necessary for the 12th.

Just to confirm the spade situation Walter cashed the ace and then led clubs. When both opponents followed to the third club lead Walter had a complete count on the hand. West had shown up with one spade, seven hearts and three clubs and hence was marked with only two diamonds. This meant that only East could annoy Walter in the spade and diamond suits.

Walter simply led his nine of hearts and the stage was set for a squeeze against East. West won the trick but there was no defense. He actually returned a third heart.

Walter won that trick and laid down his last club. He discarded a low diamond from dummy and East was unable to guard both diamonds and spades.

NOT SO DARK HORSE

Quite a few knowing politicians in Washington believe Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate majority leader, intends to make a serious bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In lawmaking circles, Johnson's stock is very high right now. Veterans of both parties have nothing but praise for his management of affairs in the 1957 session of Congress. He is viewed as a master legislative technician, shrewd in maneuver, superb at piloting a proposal to passage.

But members of Congress do not nominate candidates for President. The important questions are whether Johnson really does want the nod, and what effective strength he might muster toward getting it.

Effective strength means delegate votes in the national convention. That is the only testing ground that matters.

No one, of course, can be sure exactly what is in Johnson's mind. But his behavior in Congress, particularly in his increasing efforts to advance imaginative policy proposals, strongly suggests to his colleagues and to most observers that he wants the 1960 nomination.

Though it is early to say, the chances are good that he could put together a big block of southern delegates, possibly 300 or more. If he did that, unquestionably he would be a figure to be reckoned with at convention time.

But he understands better than many that it is a long way from that point to the nomination. The experts consider it axiomatic in the Democratic party that a winning candidate must be acceptable to both the North and the South and must be able to draw delegate strength from both areas.

Whether Johnson could achieve that objective is the issue. His popularity in the Senate might be of some help in certain western states represented now by Democratic senators. Often, however, experience shows that it is the governors, not the senators, who call the turn at conventions. And some of the biggest and most powerful states have no Democratic senators.

Broadly speaking, there are no clear signs at this time that Johnson would be acceptable to the North. Civil rights and other issues make it extremely difficult for him to gain a wide base in that sector.

If, under all the expected handicaps, Johnson were to achieve countrywide support in his party in the next three years, he would have to be hailed as master politician, as he is now called master lawmaker.

PEACETIME BLOCKBUSTER

Take a long walk around town counting houses as you go. When you get to about 110, stop counting. Then close your eyes and imagine that all the houses you counted were suddenly wiped off the neighborhood map.

In effect, that is exactly what happened in America over the Labor Day weekend. Only the damage wasn't concentrated in one city in one neighborhood but instead was spread around the country.

Altogether some 445 persons lost their lives in highway accidents. If each four individuals were a family unit, living in a home, then 110 such places would today be standing empty, ready for the wreckers.

This is harsh way to visualize the horror that took place on the recent holiday. But perhaps if it could be truly imagined in these terms, then there might be less fatalities to count the next time a holiday rolls around.

ENGLAND QUIETS DOWN

Britain's Lord Altrincham, who criticized Queen Elizabeth and the royal family, received a punch on the nose from a touchy subject of Her Majesty. A teen-age nobleman who at first sided with Lord Altrincham has apologized "for my bad manners," which had included calling the queen a "pain in the neck."

Anyway, Britain's government has survived another crisis without a change of prime ministers. It is assumed all will be well, even though Lord Altrincham still goes about unmuzzled.

A non-spilling bottle just invented is intended for perfume but perhaps may prove useful for half-awake fathers called out of bed to feed wide-awake infants.

BEAUTY AND PROGRESS

Somehow London has retained its beauty despite progress. Peking and Hongkong were among the most beautiful cities in the world; Peking avoided progress as a curse; Hongkong, however, had given way to progress which can, at times, become very ugly. Pittsburgh, once one of the ugliest cities in all this world, has now become beautified.

Resort cities have a way of growing into sheer ugliness through progress. Los Angeles is a case in point. It used to be a place to which persons suffering from lung and throat illnesses went for recovery. Then came the great exodus of Middle Western farmers who found in Southern California sunshine an easy life among orange and lemon groves. Then came oil and ship-building and airplane factories. Then came the smog. No matter how you look at it, progress brought the smog.

Up here in the Berkshires, famous resort cities were slowly dying because the era of great estates had ended. The little towns were moving into gentle decay. During the Depression years, it looked as though western New England might decay until pine and spruce and maple forests filled in its little towns.

But then came not progress but art and saved the day for beauty. True, along with it came amazingly unbeautiful motels and eating places which are monuments to ugliness, but fortunately not too many of them and they do not obtrude themselves upon the view. Art does not pay as rapidly as progress but it is more permanent and although some of the little towns are wondering why Beethoven and Mozart should be tax free, the die is cast.

Newport in Rhode Island is undoubtedly one of the most beautiful places in the United States and to it have, for centuries, flocked those who seek a rigorous but protected climate. It was once an important shipping city but somehow it remained a place of beauty in a region upon which nature combining ocean, stone and wind, has been lavish. Although the rich think of Newport in terms of Bailey's Beach and big dinner parties, I like to think of the gem of architecture, the Touro Snyagogue, built in 1763.

However, the question that now faces Newport is whether it will bask in beauty or revel in progress. For what the bankers have brought to Newport is an oil installation of enormous dimensions, which Perkins McGuire, Assistant Secretary of Defense (supply and logistics), apparently favors on the ground that no military installation in the area is to affected by the petroleum refinery.

Curious, that! Newport has been one of our principal naval bases for many decades. In fact, that is one reason why so many admirals have had rich wives. Also, right there is the Quonset Point Naval Air Station and the torpedo testing range of the Naval Underwater Ordnance Station. If these are not military establishments, what can they be?

McGuire, who came into the Department of Defense from the department store business, may feel that the customer is always right and that if the oil companies want to put up a refinery, they should be allowed to. Edward Perkins McGuire, to give his full name, was born in Boston, has worked in the department store business in New York and Cleveland and before his appointment to the Department of Defense was vice president of the Allied Stores of Ohio. He had, however, served in the Navy from 1942 to 1945 and therefore ought to be familiar with naval installations in Newport, which he probably is.

But who is to stand in the path of progress? That is a really serious question. The Navy may have to move its installations from Narragansett Bay. Anyhow, an oil refinery is not a thing of beauty even if it is a mark of progress. On May 24, 1957, the official Navy position was that the proposed refinery and the Navy would prove "incompatible." The Navy wanted the Commerce Oil Refining Corporation to construct the refinery elsewhere. Thus far, neither the corporation nor its protagonists in the Department of Defense have been able to prove that it is a matter of military necessity to have this particular installation on this particular spot, ruining the beauty of an area that has long been renowned for its beauty. Cannot progress go somewhere else where there is no beauty?

Improvements Noted in Hemorrhoid Treatment

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

A recurring question submitted to this column concerns hemorrhoids, or piles. These are two names for the same thing.

Hemorrhoids, or piles, are enlarged veins which develop at or near the outlet of the rectum. The enlargements often occur in clusters and tend to appear and disappear.

They may come on gradually or suddenly. A sudden strain, such as lifting a heavy object, or a bad attack of constipation often brings the trouble to the patient's attention for the first time.

Blockage of the flow of blood through the hemorrhoidal veins favors the development of piles. Many factors are involved: long continued severe coughing, childbirth, the muscular strain of heavy lifting, athletics or constipation.

OFTEN the first symptom of piles is the presence of blood on the outside of the bowel waste without pain. Another common early sign is itching. Bleeding is usually slight at first, but the amount of blood lost can eventually cause anemia.

Ulcers, or cracks in the skin or mucous membrane around the rectum often develops in a continued case. Such complications are usually painful.

At times clots can form inside the enlarged veins. These are likely to arise suddenly, together with severe pain. The clots are usually absorbed in a week or so, though the clot can be removed by surgery.

A letter from D. asks not only for information about hemorrhoids in general, but also whether there is any cure besides surgery and whether heat should be used.

In mild cases there is often considerable improvement without surgery and sometimes surgery is not necessary. When it comes to a cure, however, that is complete relief of severe or consistently bleeding hemorrhoids, there almost certainly is no method which is as satisfactory as surgery. Heat is of little value, though it might possibly relieve the discomfort temporarily.

THE OPERATION can be performed with either local or general anesthesia. There has been some improvement in the methods of treatment and post-operative care in recent years so that convalescence is usually more rapid and the pain less severe following this operation.

I am often asked whether hemorrhoids lead to cancer. Fortunately, though hemorrhoids may cause a lot of discomfort, they do not increase the chances of developing cancer. But one should be sure that bleeding or other symptoms in this area are not the result of cancer since to delay treatment in such event would be disastrous.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The battle over civil rights legislation hasn't ended. It's just beginning. It will last a year or more.

Putting the new Civil Rights Act of 1957 into effect in the South can begin almost any time a qualified Negro resident wants to go to his county courthouse and register to vote.

But it will be early next year —some time after the 1958 spring primaries — before many legal test cases can be taken to court.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, (D-Ga.) says the new law is unconstitutional. This indicates there may be some long trials and appeals, carrying the issue to the Supreme Court.

BEFORE THAT HAPPENS there are a number of administrative preliminaries necessary to put the new law in operation.

The President's first act will be to appoint six members and a staff director to the new Commission on Civil Rights and to name a new assistant attorney general for civil rights in the Department of Justice.

The new assistant will supervise preparation and prosecution of civil rights cases by U. S. district attorneys.

The commission will function for two years. It will investigate alleged denials of voting rights, appraise federal laws and policies on civil rights. Then it will file a report to the President and Congress and go out of business.

Both the commissioners' and the new assistant attorney general's appointments must be confirmed by the Senate. There will probably be a hassle over them.

By making recess appointments after Congress adjourns, however, the new officials could serve until the end of the next Congress in 1958, or until the Senate rejected any of their appointments.

IN MOST SOUTHERN states, registration to vote is permanent or will soon become so for citizens who have voted during the last two years.

New civil rights cases may arise, however, when new voters come in to register.

In general, registration offices are open at least one day a week up to 30 days before an election in Louisiana or six months before in Georgia.

Arkansas and Texas have no registration laws but anyone who presents a current poll tax receipt is entitled to vote. Test cases in those states could come through an election official's denying such a voter the right to vote.

In other southern states, test cases might arise if an official denied a citizen the right to register.

Such cases would call for a federal court test. A civil injunction would be requested to require the official to register the applicant.

FOR A CRIMINAL CONVICTION of any person willfully disobeying or obstructing any court order on civil rights, the penalty may be up to $1,000 fine and six months in prison.

For an organization disobeying a court civil rights order—like one of the white citizen's councils—penalties could be heavier.

Such a criminal proceeding can be with or without jury, at the judge's discretion.

If without jury, the maximum penalty is $300 fine and 45 days in prison.

If the sentence is heavier, the accused official may demand a new trial before a jury.

It is now considered probable that most of these court cases will grow out of denials of voting rights in the 1958 primaries and November elections.

The tests will therefore set the pattern for the 1960 presidential elections when the voting turnout will be heavier.

Seek Closer Relations

NEW YORK (AP)—The United Church of Christ, America's newest Protestant denomination, has received a request for closer "fraternal relations" with a German church group. The suggestion comes from the Evangelical Church Union which includes Protestant churches in six German provinces both in East and West Germany. They represent a union of Reformed and Lutheran Churches. Among other points, the Germans proposed a joint declaration of intercommunion and mutual recognition of each other's ministries and sacraments, and an exchange of fraternal delegates at General Synod meetings. The United Church of Christ was formed last June by a merger of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Churches.

Government Chaos Is Called Result of Federal Injunction

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Every governor, every sheriff, every mayor and every local official who has anything to do with the administration of state or city laws can be hauled i nto Federal court on any pretext now and charged with alleged interference with a Federal court order. This can happen no matter how earnestly and conscientiously the official may be performing the duties of his own office.

Such is the situation which confronts the American people today as they note the unprecedented action of a Federal judge in summoning the governor of a sovereign state so that the court may pass judgment on his executive ability, his efficiency and his good faith in dishcharging the duties of his office.

If the Governor of Arkansas should perchance differ with the terms of an injunction that may be issued by the Federal judge after the Sept. 20 hearing and continue to keep troops on guard, in accordance with his conscientious belief that he is fulfilling his duty as the Chief Executive of his state in preventing bloodshed and disorder, he can be charged with "civil contempt" and put in jail. Under existing Federal law, he will not even have the benefit of a jury trial.

People Called Indifferent

If the troops are withdrawn and bloodshed follows, there is no way to hold the arbitrary-minded Federal judge responsible for the death of any citizen.

How easy it would be for impassioned opinion to uphold a dictator in America today if he attempted overnight to transform the American system of government into an irresponsible government — judging by the widespread indifference to what is happening in Arkansas.

Many persons say frankly in their conversations with their neighbors that the Governor ought to be jailed, but the average citizen today knows little about our dual system of government. Lack of education in the schools on the Constitutional rights of the states, plus the steady whittling away of those rights by a usurping Federal government, aided by a usurping Supreme Court, has persuaded many citizens that, of course, anything the Federal government does is right in all controversies with the states.

"Why don't you remove the Wisconsin Senator from office?" wrote many citizens to President Eisenhower in 1955. They didn't seem to realize that there is a guarantee of freedom of speech in the Constitution. Nor did they know apparently that the states are supposed to be sovereign. But now a Governor is to be interrupted in his duties and perhaps removed by a Federal court and put in jail.

Congress Debated Issue

Nor do the people generally understand that a governor can be tried now without a jury and sentenced to jail by the same judge who makes the charge and acts as prosecuting attorney, judge and jury. Congress debated this very issue recently in connection with the "civil rights" bill but surrendered to the concept of a Federal dictatorship. There are no jury trials in "civil contempt" cases.

This correspondent made a memorandum for himself on Saturday, Aug. 31, apropos of the passage of the "civil rights" legislation by Congress and put it in his files to be read a year hence. The memorandum read as follows:

"The damage done to Constitutional government by a majority at the session of Congress just ended is epochal. It is the worst blow of the dual system of government inflicted in the history of the Republic.

"For the states have been placed in the role of subordinate 'satellites' of the federal government. Their governors, their justices, their mayors and their sheriffs now can be courtmartialed at any time by federal injunction. They no longer are independent, self-governing units.

"Chaos" in Government

"Only a patriotic and impartial-minded Supreme Court of the United States can strike down this usurpation of power by Congress. The membership of the present court—itself recently guilty of usurpation — afford, however, little hope of saving the Constitutional system.

"The legislators call the new measure, for instance, a law on 'civil rights.' They have made millions of persons believe that only the right-to-vote issue is involved. Actually, the new law is a condemnation of state government in America—its capacity to rule. This deprives the states of their historic right to determine for themselves what the qualifications of voters shall be and whether state, county and city officials are properly enforcing such state laws. This opens the way at any time for the central government to break down the authority of state governments on any question by further use of the same principle of federal authority now written into the 'civil rights' legislation."

Only four days later the prediction in that memorandum came true. There is chaos today in the relations between the states and the federal government. Footnote for history: In this tragic hour the President and the Congress and the Supreme Court of the United States are away from Washington on vacation.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — American money continues to flow to Canada as the big investment and industrial boom there shows little sign of slowing down. Even with the Canadian dollar at better than a four cent premium over the Yankee dollar the flood doesn't abate.

U. S. investments there take many forms. More than half of the money has been going into direct investment in resources and manufacturing, the Royal Commission on Canada's Economic Prospects reports.

But Canadian companies have sold large amounts of securities here and their investment companies flourish.

Gullible Warned

There was a blight of fraudulent or worthless stock peddled by confidence men, often over the long distance phone. American authorities warned the gullible repeatedly and the Canadian government has tried to curb the practice.

The great majority of stocks sold to Americans have been through regular and regulated channels, although many of the securities are highly speculative. And many Americans, seeking advice on their investments, have turned to professional consultants and investment funds.

Eight Canadian portfolio investment companies formed since 1954 under U. S. and Canadian regulatory laws report that in the three years they have distributed more than 381 million dollars in securities here.

The Canadian government appears complacent about this form of regulated American investment but there has been considerable worry about the trend toward direct investment with its threat of control by American corporations over Canadian resources and industry.

Resented by Canadians

The Royal Commission says that non-Canadians have a dominating influence in the oil and gas industry, nickel, iron ore, aluminum and asbestos industries, and in automobiles, electrical apparatus, and rubber products. Many Canadians resent this, fearing that Yankees will be taking over more and more.

But the commission notes that "Canada has always welcomed the investment of foreign capital and has benefited greatly and will continue to benefit from the foreign capital that has been invested here."

The trouble seems to be that the Americans are more venturesome and the Canadian investors stick to the proven thing.

Faubus Pictures Self as Target Of Many Plots

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas not only has surrounded his actions with mystery but has pictured himself as the target of plots and plans that range from tapping his wires, to arresting and assassinating him.

He telegraphed President Eisenhower Sept. 4 that "I have strong reasons to believe" the FBI was tapping his telephones. This was after he used National Guardsmen to keep negro children from a school ordered integrated by a federal judge.

U. S. district attorney Osro Cobb of Little Rock promtply said: "Such a belief is wholly unwarranted."

Worked With FBI

When newsmen asked Faubus a few days later the basis for his belief about the phone taps, it came down to this:

He said he had worked with the FBI in his Army days and "I know what FBI methods are; I do not have the least doubt that they tapped my telephone wires."

He has told newsmen he heard of a plot to assassinate him, a plot organized in a Northern city which he wouldn't name. He said he had heard a group was setting out to "bump" him off.

In his wire to Eisenhower he said he had been "reliably informed" that federal agents in Little Rock were discussing plans to arrest him. Eisenhower's press secretary, James Hagerty, denied this. Faubus hasn't been arrested yet.

Since calling out the guardsmen Sept. 2 to keep the Negro children out of Little Rock's Central High School, Faubus has pretty much secluded himself in his mansion, which he also surrounded with guardsmen.

Newsmen asked him why he has surrounded his mansion with guardsmen. He said: "for security reasons and others I couldn't discuss."

It was Federal Judge Ronald L. Davies who ordered the high school integrated last week after a state court had directed a delay in the integration plan approved earlier by both district and appellate federal courts. Faubus said "it is common knowledge" someone else wrote the integration order and just handed it to Davies. He has never identified the someone.

After Faubus blocked the court order with his troops, it became clear by last Monday that Judge Davies would summon him to court to show cause why he should not be ordered to stop interfering with the court's decree.

Newsmen asked him Monday if he'd accept the summons. He said he didn't know.

Believes in Court

On Wednesday the marshal went to the mansion. The troops let him through. Faubus willingly accepted the order to appear in court.

He said: "I believe in the court. I believe in the law of the land. What would be the purpose of my dodging around, trying to avoid service?" Since he felt this way, what was his purpose in not saying so two days before?

As his excuse for calling out the guardsmen Sept. 2, Faubus said he had evidence that violence was threatened and he spoke of caravans of people descending on Little Rock if the school was integrated.

After the troops had been keeping the Negro children from school two days, the city's mayor, Woodrow Mann, said: "The Little Rock police have not had a single case of violence reported to them."

What evidence of threatened violence did Faubus have? He's never revealed it.

Fire Damages Plant

MASSENA (AP)—A cement-batch plant on the St. Lawrence Seaway near here was damaged yesterday by fire. The plant's control panel was destroyed.

Firemen said the cause of the blaze was not known. No estimate of the damage was available.

The fire, contractors said, would delay by about 24 hours the final pouring of concrete on the Massena intake canal.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

To Brick Veneer Vols West Camp Firehouse

SAUGERTIES — A committee with the authority to accept the lowest bid for the brick veneering of West Camp firehouse was appointed at the regular meeting of Malden-West Camp Fire Company Tuesday night at West Camp station.

They are: Chief Steven Musan, Charles Teetsel, vice president; past-president William Wrolsen and fire commissioneers Charles Graf and Harry Moose.

The new committee was authorized to receive and accept the lowest bid for the work in order that the project may be completed before cold weather develops.

Delegates to the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association were instructed to vote against the two per cent dues proposal. According to a new proposal to be presented for vote at the next county meeting, dues would be determined by a two per cent calculation on the treasury balance of the company in May. The minimum would be $5 and the maximum $35. The current county dues is $5.

During committee reports Chief Musan said the company is studying a proposal to have the state install traffic signals at the four corners at Malden and Route 9W and the fire company road entering Route 9W at West Camp. Both are dangerous intersections for fire company trucks entering in an emergency.

Former Chief Teetsel reported on the possible installation of a fire siren at the Malden Post Office or on some building nearby. Agreements have not been made with property owners, he said.

The secretary, Peter Strbich was directed to forward a letter of thanks to Richard Barnard of Palenville for donation of plumbing supplies and his services in the installation of lavatory facilities in the Malden fire station.

Joseph Myers of West Camp was accepted as an associate honorary member with dues paid in return for his services as flag custodian. Myers will also test blow the fire siren at West Camp station each Saturday at noon.

The award of the month was forwarded to Harry Lorry of West Saugerties.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

In case the readers would like to know what was going on in the summer of 1888 in Kingston, all one has to do is look in an old newspaper like "The Kingston Argus" dated Wednesday, July 25th, 1888.

Under 'City Paragraphs' I see "Partick O'Reilly has sold the trotting horse, 'Rubber Boy' formerly the property of the late Rev. J. J. Duffy, to J. J. Fallan, of New York City for $800."

"On August 1st, A. W. Reynolds Division, Uniformed Rank Knights of Pythias, will make an excursion to Poughkeepsie, going by the steamer, City of Kingston, and returning by the Mary Powell.

"Excelsior Hose Co. No. 4, will go on an excursion to Iona Island with the many friends of the members on August 4th. The steamer, Columbia, will convey the excursionists on the barge, Sarah Smith, and music will be furnished by Doyle's Brass Band. A cheap excursion to Saratoga and Lake George goes over the West Shore on Wednesday. A special train will leave Kingston at 8 a. m. Tickets for Saratoga and return will cost $2.20. Tickets for Lake George and return include a sail on the lake, will cost only $2.95."

I hope the above proves to the present generation that folks back in those days went places, had fun, without the trials and tribulations of traffic jams and parking meters. They usually came back refreshed after these Hudson river excursions.

Schools being so much in headlines right, now here's an item from the same paper:

"Work has already been started on the addition to Public School No. 8 in the upper portion of the city. The enlargement to the school building will be on the side towards Union Avenue, fronting on Prospect Street. The new part of the building will be constructed of brick. It will be two stories in height. On each floor there will be three rooms. The size of these rooms will be 28x38.

"These dimensions will very nearly correspond with the size of the other apartments in the school house. Two of the rooms on the upper floor will be so arranged that they can be thrown into one apartment."

I take it, it is the same school which was abandoned about the same time as the Wilbur School No. 1. I do not remember just how many of the windows were broken by then and the empty window frames had to be boarded up. The metal fence, as I remember had also been removed, and so it had to be replaced again and the glass panes had to be put in and now once again it stands as the handsome, proud structure it was intended to be back in 1888. I always did admire that brick building.

Another item reads: "A picnic for the benefit of St. Peter's school, Rondout, will be held at Barmann's Elysium, Wednesday, August 8, beginning at 3 p. m. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged. The committee of arrangements is composed of John Derrenbacher, Peter Barmann, Nicholas Stock, John Weiss, Simon Heitzman and John Motrie."

It is interesting to read the names which are still well known in Kingston and who aided greatly in constructive community welfare some 60 years ago.

Individual Oatmeal Loaves Are New Breakfast Boon

INDIVIDUAL LOAVES of special oatmeal bread belong in the basic cereal-and-milk breakfast.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

The current trend in some fine restaurants is to serve individual loaves of freshly baked bread. That's an attractive idea homemakers can use to get their families and themselves to eat an adequate breakfast.

Spiced Oatmeal Raisin Bread
(Yield: 4 individual loaves)

Two cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ cup sugar, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon ginger, 1 cup rolled oats, uncooked, 1⅓ cups buttermilk or sour milk, 2 tablespoons melted fat, ¾ cup raisins.

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, soda, salt, and spices. Add rolled oats and mix thoroughly. Combine buttermilk with slightly cooled fat. Add to flour mixture with raisins. Stir just until dry ingredients are moistened. Pour into four well-greased 4¼x2¼x1¼-inch pans. Bake in a moderate oven (350 to 375 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes or until done. Turn out onto rack to cool.

Note: If preferred, this bread may be baked in a well-greased 9x5x3-inch pan in a moderate oven (350 to 375 degrees F.) about 1 hour, or until done.

You can bake a supply of these individual loaves and keep in your freezer. Place in a warm oven for a few minutes and you have homemade bread for breakfast.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Broiled whitefish, parsleyed potatoes, broccoli with lemon wedges, spiced oatmeal raisin bread, butter or margarine, bread, butter or margarine, sliced tomato and orange salad on romaine lettuce, pineapple sherbet, coffee, tea, milk.

Tillson

Demonstration Given Vols on Air Pak

TILLSON — A demonstration of the Scott Air Pak was given at the regular monthly meeting of the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company Sept. 10 by Clifford Abplanalp of the Libtrty Fire Equipment Co., Inc., Liberty. More than 25 members and officers were present, and a number of firemen tried out the apparatus. No decision was made regarding the purchase of the units, but the committee investigating such breathing apparatus was given authority to purchase following their investigation.

The company will assist in the landscaping of the property by planting, at the present, 10 shrubs, which will be planted in memory of past departed members of the company. President Vincent Caroll appointed Inman Wood, Louis Muenkel and Douglas Sarr as a committee to carry out this project.

A discussion of a new, more powerful siren took place, but insufficient data was on hand to determine who should play for the installation, the company or the district. Details will be available at the next meeting, and some decision reached.

A fund raising project was introduced by Chief L. Dyer and a committee consisting of Dyer, R. Waddell and G. Brown will work on details. Members of the committee will then reach the membership to explain the project.

The company approved the purchase of two breathing apparatus and spare tanks, giving authority to the current committee to purchase.

On Sunday, Sept. 15, at 2 p. m., another fire drill will be held. The trucks will be sent to the River Road where supplies of water will be tested to determine the area which can be covered from the supply. President Carroll urged more firemen to attend these weekly drills.

The Tillson Volunteer firemen will be hosts for the monthly Township association meeting Tuesday evening, Sept. 24 at the firehall. It was also announced that on Oct. 9, the Ulster County Fire Police Association would meet at the Tillson firehall.

It was noted that volunteer firemen, if injured while fighting a forest or brush fire for the state, would not be eligible for firemen's compensation if they signed the state payroll register, since they would then be temporary state employes.

Following the business session, refreshments were served.

Memoriam

In memoriam of Grandmother, Mary Niemeyer Higby who passed on September 12, 1955.
They say time heals all sorrows
And helps us to forget,
But two years have proven
How much I miss her yet.
When the road was getting rough
The hills were hard to climb
God closed her tired eyes
And whispered, "Peace be thine."
Those weary months of pain,
Forever now has passed
Her ever-patient worn-out frame
Has found eternal rest at last.
While she on Earth did dwell
Much strife and storm seemed unfair
I know now all is well
She's in God's tender care
But we will meet again some day
When millenium dawns the blue
And until then good Grandmother
I shall always remember you.
Grandson,
EDWIN J. HIGBY

Storm Likely To Skip U.S.

By The Associated Press

Generally fair weather prevailed today in most of the far west and along the northeast coast but cloudy and wet weather was the outlook for other parts of the country.

Skies were cloudy in the central part of the country from the Rockies eastward to the Appalachians, with rain hitting most areas during the night. The main wet belt extended from Texas to the upper Great Lakes region.

Meanwhile, forecasters said Hurricane Carrie probably will miss the U. S. mainland entirely and die far out in the Atlantic Ocean.

The season's third tropical storm was near latitude 21.3 north, longitude 52.6 west or about 940 miles east-northeast of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

That put it about 1,900 miles east and a little south of Miami.

It had winds up to 90 miles an hour around the center with gales extending outward 120 miles in the northern semicircle and 75 miles in the southern semicircle.

Syria Is Called Ready to Meet All Conspiracies

CAIRO (AP) — Syria's top military leader held urgent talks with President Nasser and other Egyptian officials today and declared defiantly Syria is prepared to meet all "imperialistic conspiracies."

"Every Syrian national is prepared to shed his blood for the sake of preserving his country's independence," Gen. Afif Bizry, leftist commander in chief of the Syrian army, said in an interview with the newspaper Al Ahram.

"Syria is now fortified against all imperialistic conspiracies and the people and the army are united in one front."

Bizry and Lt. Col. Abdel Hamid Serraj, Syrian army intelligence chief, arrived yesterday on a surprise visit that underlined the deepening concern of the two Arab allies over the Syrian crisis.

Asked to comment on charges that the U. S. government is seeking to overthrow Syria's regime, Bizry said:

In Long Talks

"Americans do not only limit their adventures to movies, but they also yield to them in normal life, imagining that a dollar can do anything. They forget that this dollar has no place in a land of honor and dignity."

Bizry and Serraj went into immediate conferences with Nasser and Egyptian military leaders on their arrival here.

Informed sources said the talks continued into the early morning.

As they met, Syria's acting defense minister Khaled Azem said in Damascus he does not believe aggression against Syria is imminent. But he added that Syria has taken "all defensive measures to face every possibility."

Azem talked with reporters after a cabinet session devoted to what an official statement called "development of the situation in the light of the Soviet and American foreign ministers' statements on Syria."

They referred to the warning to Turkey and the west by the Soviet Union's Andrei Gromyko against any military moves on Syria and to Secretary of State Dulles' view that the current crisis will be settled without war.

One Syrian official said both statements "have considerably pushed back the threat of anti-Syrian aggression."

Asked if he believed Syria would be the target of aggression in the near future, Azem replied:

"Though I do not believe this likely, we should not rest assured that wisdom and restraint will always rule the policy of those powers who threaten Syria by aggression. However, we have taken all defensive measures to face every possibility."

Lebanon Expresses Fear

Arab emphasis continued to shift to the line that Israel might seek to take advantage of the current Middle East crisis and attack Syria.

Lebanon expressed fear of such action. Official sources in Beirut said President Camille Chamoun had notified the ambassadors of the United States, Britain and Turkey of his government's concern. He warned that an attack by Israel would bring the Arab bloc to Syria's assistance.

In Jerusalem, Israel's foreign ministry spokesman Moshe Lesem said talk of an Israeli attack "is pure propaganda." He declared Israel is not planning to attack anyone, adding that "all warlike declarations have always come from the Arabs."

Cryolite from Greenland

The world's entire supply of cryolite, a sodium-aluminum fluoride, comes from mines in Greenland. It is used in the production of aluminum.

Tunisia Threatens To Buy Red Arms

TUNIS (AP) — Leaders of Tunisia's ruling Neodestour Party today threatened in effect to buy arms from the Soviet bloc if the United States refuses to help equip their fledgling army.

The weekly newspaper Action, published by Neodestour under the direction of Bechir Ben Yahmed, complained in an editorial that the United States is withholding support for Tunisia's poorly equipped army while rushing supplies by plane to Jordan. Ben Yahmed formerly was information minister under president Habib Bourguiba.

The paper said Tunisia desperately needs armament to defend its frontiers and to assure internal order. The need for defense equipment was shown by a recent clash between French and Tunisian troops along the Tunisian-Algerian border, the paper said. The clash occurred when French soldiers pursued a band of Algerian rebels across the border.

Criticizes DA

Later Aaron Klein, counsel for Dohnken said, "The public will want to know why the District Attorney continues to thwart all my efforts to bring the Dohnken case to trial. On several occasions, including today, that was the only case being pressed for immediate trial. Why won't the District Attorney give Dohnken his day in court?"

Jurors were excused until 10 a. m. Monday.

Baniewski Up Monday

It was announced the Edward J. Baniewski case would be moved Monday. Charles J. Saccoman, counsel, had asked the court to give him until next Monday to prepare for trial. He had been involved in the preparation of the McCloskey case and was not ready at this time to proceed with the Baniewski case, he told the court. His request was granted.

Edward J. Baniewski, 25, of 95 Green Street, is also charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry. His case is the first one to be moved for trial in the series of indictments arising out of the police department investigation to involve an individual outside the department. He is charged with entrance to the Herzog premises on May 7 and 14; New York Central freight house on May 9; Montgomery Ward store on May 11 and the Lillian Ferraro beauty shop on June 8.

River Is . . .

Wednesday. This rise covers some three acres — perhaps amounting to two million gallons.

Harry F. Edinger, director of environmental sanitation, Ulster County Health Department, said today that the district consumed 350,000 gallons during the 24-hour period ending at noon Wednesday.

He estimated that the reservoir is gaining about half a day's storage for every day of pumping.

It was reported also that Highland Central High School was using a well which it abandoned about 1940.

C. J. Ryan, 50, Suicide Victim

NEW YORK (AP) — Clendenin J. Ryan, 50-year-old millionaire reformer and stormy figure in New York politics in recent years, shot and killed himself today at his Manhattan home.

Police said he took his life with a .45 caliber automatic pistol.

Ryan's wife, Jean, told officers that while she was in her bedroom about 7:30 a. m. she heard a noise but didn't know what it was. About 10 minutes later, she said, she went to the bathroom and found her husband shot. The Ryan home is at 32 East 70th St.

Police found a note and two sealed envelopes, one addressed to his wife. Their contents were not immediately divulged.

Denounced O'Dwyer

Ryan was a grandson of the financier Thomas Fortune Ryan and inherited part of the financier's 141 million dollar estate.

Ryan took a keen interest in New York City politics, beginning with the race for mayor of Fiorello La Guardia in 1933. He went on to serve in the LaGuardia administration in various capacities.

After LaGuardia's long tenure, Ryan jumped back in to politics again with a bitter campaign against William O'Dwyer, who was elected successor to LaGuardia.

In the midst of this, in 1949, Ryan was hauled before a grand jury as the result of an alleged plot to tap the telephones of O'Dwyer and other top officials. Ryan denied he was involved and nothing much ever came of the probe.

In subsequent years he sought election as governor of New Jersey on an independent ticket, but didn't get far.

Narcotics' Raid Nets 16 Persons

NEW YORK (AP) — Sixteen persons, including one woman and a boy and a girl, were rounded up last night by narcotics squad detectives.

The boy, 14, and the girl, 15, were booked today on charges of juvenile delinquency. The 14 adults were booked on charges of intent to sell narcotics and possession of narcotics.

The arrests followed a two-month investigation by 16 men and women detectives, who used various disguises to gain the confidence of some of the alleged sellers. Some of the detectives dressed as bowery bums.

Inspector Joseph L. Coyle, head of the narcotics squad, said those arrested were not members of any organized gang, but operated individually and sold their wares at cut rates because of keen competition.

The 16 were arrested in a number of locations on the lower East Side. Those arrested allegedly had turned Sara Delano Roosevelt Park into a market place for narcotics.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Fisher and George Gobel, the new buddy team of television, are a tizzy over talents and ratings.

Says Gobel, one of TV's last surviving comics:

"You just gotta hang in there and ride it out."

Says Fisher, the minstrel lad who suddenly found himself in a mass singer stampede to the networks:

"I think you are going to see an entirely different picture around television planning by January. We hope to be a part of it."

Keys to NBC Move

Gobel and Fisher — the billing reverses on alternate weeks—are the key men in NBC's tandem thrust to lure the watching crowd each Tuesday in the 8 to 9 p. m. slot.

Their dual activities commence Sept. 24, and although the enterprise was booked last spring, Eddie and George have yet to huddle in any formal manner.

"Our new relationship has yet to begin," says Fisher.

This does not indicate any off-camera aloofness, but is simply the way things work out in an era of complex bookings, overnight cross-continent sorties and the exigencies of multiple enterprise.

The two arrived in New York the other day a few hours apart, ended up in swanky adjacent hotels—but met only briefly before racing off again on different orbits. Even interviews were separate.

Like Each Other

"He's a swell guy," comments George.

"I think we'll get along just fine," reports Eddie.

Separate production staffs will set up the alternate programs in the series, with backstage liaison to guard against duplication of items and talent tapping.

It is on this point of guest performers that the pair echo identical sentiments.

"The toughest problem of this season," says George, his on-camera cherub manner veiled in gloom.

"Trading is going to be the only medium of exchange," asserts Eddie. "Prices have gone through the roof."

Although each of the stars will regularly perform on his partner's program, the aim is to keep the stints in different tempo, stress different entertainment elements and avoid deadly format.

"We want to keep them confused," says Gobel of the viewing audience. He explains that the idea of the tandem setup is to unify two groups of fans, the Fisher enthusiasts of song, the Gobel addicts of humor.

"You gotta admit that was some pretty good thinking," says George. "It may not work but it was good thinking."

Eddie welcomes the audience cross-pollination.

Eager for Challenge

"A performer who wants to get places is always eager for new challenge," he comments.

Eventually both discourse on ratings.

"There are 26 variety shows on the air with singers," says Fisher. "I don't think half will be left by January. And I don't feel that all the competition is really beneficial to anybody."

Comments Gobel:

"Too many comedians went off the air not because they weren't capable, but because they got to watching those ratings, then got panicky, tried to change. I won't be like that."

Annual Banquet To Fete Retired Area Postmasters

Holmes on Broadway

NEW YORK (AP)—Permission to do a Broadway musical about fiction's most famous detective, Sherlock Holmes, has been granted to Film Producer Billy Wilder by the estate of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Production is expected next year, with Rex Harrison a possible choice for the title role.

Dial Telephones Topic at Rotary

Dial telephones will go into operation here Sunday, October 6 at 3:01 a. m. and new telephone directories will be issued one week to 10 days prior to the change-over, Robert J. Dalton, local manager of the New York Telephone Company, told members of the Kingston Rotary Club Wednesday. Robert Honan, traffic superintendent, explained the dial system.

The local calling area for Kingston telephones will be enlarged to include Saugerties, Woodstock, Shokan, High Falls, Rosendale and Esopus, Mr. Dalton explained.

Industrial and two-party line customers in Kingston will begin using direct distance dialing, which will enable them to dial their own calls to about 25 million telephones throughout the United States.

Kingston is the second upstate community to enjoy direct distance dialing. The United States already has been divided into over 100 numbering plan areas, each with its own three-digit code.

The new central office names which will replace the present locality names are DUpont and FEDeral in Kingston, CHerry in Saugerties, ORiole in Woodstock, OLiver in Shokan and Rosendale and OVerland in High Falls, Esopus and Phoenicia.

The new dial system will not throw any permanent employe out of work, Mr. Dalton said. He explained that for the past two years personnel was hired on a temporary basis and many of these employes will have permanent jobs. Those "imported" from other cities will be returned to positions in their home communities.

Last Invasion

Columbus, New Mex., is the site of the last invasion of the United States by foreign troops. On March 9, 1916, a group of bandits led by Mexican rebel Francisco "Pancho" Villa crossed the border and raided Columbus, killing 16 Americans and burning much of the town.

Detective Customer

FIVEMILETOWN, Northern Ireland (AP)—Prince Gypsy Lee, a fortune teller, had Victor Bownes for a customer.

Bownes would have to appear in court, the fortune teller said, but there was no need to worry. He'd win his case.

In court yesterday Lee was fined 1 pound ($2.80) on a charge of accepting money for the telling of fortunes. The chief prosecution witness was Bownes, a police detective.

Says California Seeks to Put Mag Out of Business

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The state of California is trying to put Confidential out of business in a "witch hunt," the defense has contended at the magazine's criminal libel trial.

"The indictments were returned not to punish someone but to put a magazine out of business," Atty. Arthur J. Crowley said yesterday in his final argument to the jury.

"Confidential has the biggest news stand sale in the nation. A very large segment of the public reads it. It has a circulation of four million copies with at least 20 million readers."

Freedom at Stake

Crowley told the jury that the issue of freedom of the press is at stake.

"When you start encroaching on freedom of the press, where do you end?" he asked.

"When you start out censoring you end up with book-burning. You may not like Confidential, but that doesn't mean you have the right to tell others that they can't read it. If all the books that are not for teenagers and adolescents are taken away, you will end up with suppression of thought."

Confidential and its sister magazine, Whisper, and Marjorie and Fred Meade and the Hollywood Research, Inc., which they set up are charged with conspiracy to commit criminal libel and to publish lewd and obscene matter.

Crowley said the motion picture industry protects an element within its own ranks which has "brought disgrace upon Hollywood."

"It is unfortunate," he said, "that a segment of movie people have brought disgrace upon Hollywood. But unlike the federal government that weeds out homosexuals and other undesirables, the motion picture industry goes to great lengths to protect them."

As the final arguments lengthened it began to appear doubtful that the jury will get the case before early next week.

Ex-Truman Aide Takes AEC Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — John S. Graham, one of two former Truman administration officials recently appointed to be members of the Atomic Energy Commission took office today.

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss arranged to preside over oath-taking ceremonies at AEC headquarters. The second new appointee, John F. Floberg, is now on vacation and will be sworn in some time next month.

When Floberg takes the oath, the commission will be at full five-man strength for the first time since the death of Dr. John Von Neumann last February.

Graham, 52, served as an assistant secretary of the treasury under President Truman. A Democrat, he was named to fill the unexpired AEC term of Dr. Von Neumann ending June 30, 1959. Von Neumann was a political independent.

A native of Reading, Mass., Graham has a residence in Winston-Salem, N. C., but has been working as a financial and business consultant with headquarters in Washington.

Enthronement Set

MANY DO NOT KNOW WHAT IS EXPECTED

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is engaged to be married. I do not know her fiance's people and while she has herself only seen them two or three times, she said they seemed pleased with the prospects of their son's engagement to her. Should I (a widow) visit them or they me? They have made no move of any kind so far.

Answer: According to convention, they should come to see you. However, since it is understandable how many people would not be aware of what is expected of them at such a time, it is always best to go more than half way. In your case, this would be to invite them for a definite time. To ask them to come in and have a cup of tea would be most conventional and simplest.

Too Attentive Hosts

Dear Mrs. Post: I was invited to a large wedding reception recently at which the guests were seated in groups of ten at small tables. During the course of the reception, the bride's mother and father went around to each table and spoke to each group, asking them if everything was all right and if they were having a good time. Was this proper?

Answer: This well meant attention to their guests really defeats its purpose because the men at each table the hostess visits must stand up, interrupting conversations and causing unnecessary confusion.

Times Have Changed

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it ever proper for a woman to wear a formal evening dress if the man with whom she is dining has no dinner coat and has to wear a business suit?

Answer: This is a very moot question of the present day when any number of well-born men wearing day clothes are accompanying women in barest of evening clothes. According to longest established etiquette, a gentleman accompanying a lady in evening dress must wear at least a tuxedo. A man in day clothes accompanying a woman in low cut evening clothes has always, in former years, been very disparaging to the woman's social standing.

60,000 Aliens Entering Today Under New Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States opens its gates today to the first of more than 60,000 immigrants made eligible for admission under a new law.

Arrangements were made to issue the first visas at a ceremony in Toronto, Canada. Three women —a Lithuanian, a Turk and one of Spanish-Polish origin — were chosen to get the visas. The women are relatives of persons living in the United States.

In various parts of the world, U. S. consular offices were set to begin processing visas under the program designed to ease some of the hardships growing out of the nation's immigration laws.

An estimated 62,556 additional immigrants will be eligible for admission to the United States under terms of the new law, State Department officials said.

This total is expected to include 14,556 refugees from Communist countries, 4,000 orphans adopted by American citizens and 36,000 persons ticketed for admission under special nonquota status.

Signing the bill yesterday at his Newport, R. I., vacation headquarters, President Eisenhower said it makes a number of improvements in immigration practices. But the President voiced disappointment that the bill ignored several of his recommendations for major revisions of the nation's basic immigration law.

Lawmakers See Reds' Move on School Trouble

LONDON (AP) — A group of U. S. lawmakers said today they expect Communist spokesmen to try to gain a propaganda victory out of the violence connected with the integration of south schools in the United States.

They said they were ready to battle the Reds on the issue at the 46th conference of the Interparliamentary Union which convened here today.

The American legislators — 10 senators and 14 representatives— are among delegations from 46 nations, including the Soviet Union, attending the conference. The union was founded in 1889 to promote international goodwill.

Attacks Expected

Rep. Keating (R-NY) told a newsman he fully expects Communists attacks on U. S. racial policies during general debate on the international situation. Keating said he deplored recent violence over school integration in Tennessee and Arkansas. He said he has revised a speech he will deliver before the union to take possible Communist attacks into account.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said that although racial violence "is hurting the prestige of our country" he believes the U. S. delegation has little to fear from Communist attacks on the issue.

"We'll be perfectly willing to talk about it," Kefauver declared. "Everyone should realize that only a small minority is involved in making trouble. No substantial number of people believe in violence in Tennessee or in the south."

Equinoctial Rain

the sun's heating effect over land. The land masses absorb heat readily within the top layers. The water masses absorb this heat energy to a greater depth.

"The resulting effect is that land surfaces are warmer than the water.

"In the winter, the land mass is cooler than the surrounding water. When a cold air mass moves out of a source region, it has various characteristics such as cold temperatures and low humidities.

How Storms Occur

"The zone where this cold air mass meets another air mass—warmer than itself—the warmer air mass with characteristics of higher temperatures and large moisture content is the front.

"In the 'frontal zone,' the violent interaction that takes place results in frontal weather of showers or thunderstorms. The autumnal equinoctial storms are the transition period between mild summer weather and the cold, more severe weather.

"The transition period will be marked by increasing polar outbreaks and increased activity along the frontal zone. The equinoctial storms are the result of the northward migration of the outer boundaries of the cold polar air masses into the mid latitudes.

"The autumnal equinox takes place on or about Sept. 21 and within a short period thereafter we can expect these conditions to take place."

President Scores

been quoted by name.

Hagerty said there are only three White House aides with the President at his vacation headquarters. He named them as Capt. E. P. Aurand, Eisenhower's naval aide; Wayne Hawks, chief of White House records; and himself.

"I think all of you gentlemen know that none of us have made any such statements like that," Hagerty said, referring to the comment he said he had heard on the air.

"We have deliberately refrained from making any such remarks and any such reports are completely untrue. There is no one on the White House staff in Newport talking that way and I think you gentlemen and ladies know it.

"And I would appreciate it—and so would the President—if you would carry these remarks of mine in full."

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to improve in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Pivotal issues rose from fractions to a point or so in a resumption of yesterday's technical rebound.

The market was higher from the start and held its gains for a while before prices began to back away a bit.

Copper shares, however, improved their early advances. They have been badly hit by the weak copper prices but received some encouragement today when a custom smelter boosted its price for the red metal by ½-cent a pound, the first such rise in a long while.

News that military spending will be increased shortly and other reports of improvement in the uneven business picture also made the background more favorable.

Kennecott rose well over a point. Anaconda was a 1-point gainer. International Nickel advanced a good fraction.

Killed in Crash

BUFFALO (AP) — Bernard Gusman, 61, of Cheektowaga was killed today when a lift tractor he was driving and a tractor-trailer coming from the opposite direction collided on a road in Cheektowaga.

Stair Fall Fatal

BUFFALO (AP) — John Kinahan, 45, was fatally injured today when he fell down a flight of stairs in the rooming house where he lived.

Ike, Faubus . . .

federal officials were planning to ask a federal judge to grant a court injunction against any persons interfering with peaceful integration of first graders in the Nashville schools. A similar injunction eventually halted disorders in Clinton, Tenn., last year.

City court action at Nashville sent John Kasper, northern segregationist, to the workhouse after he failed to raise a $200 fine for his part in integration demonstrations. He was fined $50 each on city charges of vagrancy, loitering, disorderly conduct and offensive conduct. He still is in $25,000 bond on state charges of inciting to riot.

Judge Is Angered

City Judge Andrew Doyle told Kasper that "If I had the authority, I would instruct police to take you by the seat of the britches and the nape of your neck and throw you out of town."

Nashville police used roadblocks to keep all demonstrators away from six grammar schools where first grade classes were mixed Monday. Officers reported 39 persons had been arrested since a pre-dawn dynamite blast Tuesday wrecked the half million dollar Hattie Cotton School where one Negro pupil was admitted the day before.

Police at Birmingham, Ala., removed 76 Negro high school pupils from a bus after rocks were thrown at white persons. All except five later were released. One was jailed on a charge of disorderly conduct; the other four were turned over to juvenile court on similar charges.

Police said the Negroes were enroute to Parker High School, an all-Negro institution, when three white men reported rocks were thrown at them from the bus. An automobile and a truck also were struck, officers said.

Authorities reported a marked drop in tension at Little Rock's 2,000 student Central High and at North Little Rock High, across the Arkansas River. White crowds dwindled to a handful of persons, compared with up to 700 earlier.

Two of six Negroes turned back from the white high school at North Little Rock enrolled at a Negro school there. A Negro minister who accompanied the six to the white school Monday said the other four also probably would go to the Negro school.

At Charlotte, N. C., 15-year-old

Girl Spat On

Dorothy Counts, the only Negro pupil in white Harding High School, reported she was spat on and hit by objects thrown by other pupils. Police Chief Frank Littlejohn ordered an investigation.

"It was the worst day I've had," said Dorothy, who was greeted with insults, tossed pebbles and spittle when she registered for the school last week. "From the way things went Monday and Tuesday I thought everything was all right," she said.

At Mayfield, Ky., police dispersed a milling crowd of white pupils who assembled in front of Mayfield High School as 14 Negroes attended classes. Police Chief Lloyd Clark said there was no trouble. The western Kentucky High School began integration last fall without incident.

At Madisonville, Ky., police reported a cross was burned at the home of the only Negro family in Hopkins County to enter a child in the newly integrated schools this year.

At Ozark, Ark., three Negro children were withdrawn from a previously all-white school. Their father said violence was directed against them. School and other officials declined comment.

Riley West, father of two of the children, said last night police officers had told the three pupils to stay home.

Nearly Run Over

West said "One person tried to run over the children with a car as they were walking home from school."

Ozark, a town of 1,700 in northwest Arkansas, began integration this semester. Previously it had sent its few Negro students to an all-Negro high school in Fort Smith, a distance of 61 miles. Ozark is about 100 miles west of Little Rock.

And in Pittsburgh, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, Negro undersecretary of the United Nations, said violence surrounding school integration in the south "is bound to have a harmful effect on international opinion."

"Photographs of jeering crowds and armed National Guardsmen blocking young boys and girls from entering schools are hardly good public relations," Dr. Bunche said.

Canal Shipments Down

ALBANY (AP)—Shipments on the State Barge Canal system are running more than 12 per cent under last year's level.

John W. Johnson, state public works superintendent, said today the decline reflected a nationwide drop in water traffic.

In the four months through Aug. 30, Barge Canal shipments totaled 2,541,131 tons, compared with 2,900,954 at the same point last year.

Homebuilding Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department reported today a slight pickup in private homebuilding in August, but a lower eight-month total so far this year than for any comparable period since 1949.

The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said preliminary data from building permit reports showed private housing starts rose contra-seasonally from 90,200 in July to 92,600 in August.

Liner Is Unloaded

NEW YORK (AP)—Longshoremen refused for a time to unload the liner Vulcania when she arrived today with Asian flu cases aboard but went to work when assured the cases were isolated.

Seventy-eight patients were in the Italian liner's sick bay. City health authorities expressed doubt that more than 12 cases still were active.

Jersey Mother Gives Birth to Girl — 12th

MORRISTOWN, N. J. (AP)—Mrs. Raymond Beston gave birth to her 12th daughter yesterday — a medical rarity. She has no sons.

Doctors said the chances of having 12 of a kind are "slimmer than slim."

"We wouldn't know what to do with a boy," she told a reporter.

The latest arrival, weighing in at Morristown Memorial Hospital at 8 pounds and 2½ ounces, was named Madonna Grace. Mother and baby are fine. The other children range from 12 years to 13 months.

British Comets To Make First East-West Hop

LONDON (AP)—Two of Britain's Comet jet aircraft will make their first East-West Atlantic crossing Sept. 24, the Air Ministry announced today.

A spokesman said two RAF versions of the pioneer civil airliner will carry ground crews and equipment to Pinecastle, Fla., for next month's bombing competition by the Strategic Air Command.

"We expect that contamination of abtur jet fuel at the refuelling base at Gander, Nfld., will by then have been rectified," the spokesman said. Abtur is a kerosene-based fuel used by some jets.

A Comet had been scheduled to fly the Atlantic last Tuesday en route to the bombing competition, but the flight was canceled because of refuelling difficulties. The Air Ministry sent a piston-engined Hastings aircraft instead.

The Comet was originally hailed as the jet era's first passenger airliner. Two fatal crashes early in 1954 caused it to be withdrawn from service.

Three Are Killed As Plane Explodes

BASTROP, La. (AP) — A jet bomber from Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., exploded in flight about five miles south of here today, leaving three known dead.

One airman, identified as Col. J. C. Briley, parachuted to safety. No identities were immediately available on the dead.

Briley, taken to a Bastrop hospital, declined to make a statement.

Mrs. Helen Martin, clerk and radio operator for the Bastrop Police Department said the plane roared low over the city about 8:10 a. m. shattering windows and knocking plaster from buildings, and exploded shortly afterward.

At Barksdale Air Force Base, near Shreveport, the type of plane and its home base were verified by Capt. Charles Deere, public information officer.

Deere had no further information immediately.

Copper Price Raised

NEW YORK (AP) — The price of copper was increased one-half cent a pound to 25½ cents a pound by one custom smelting firm today, marking the first advance in copper by such a firm in many months.

Smelters, who refine copper from purchased ores and scrap, had cut to the 25-cent level last week with a reduction of 1½ cents a pound.

2 Bodies Taken From Crash of B57 Jet Bomber

ANDREWS AIR FORCE BASE, Md. (AP)— An Air Force B57 jet bomber crashed here early today while attempting to land. A base spokesman said two bodies were recovered from the wreckage.

Names of the victims were not immediately disclosed.

The public information office said the light bomber — the Air Force version of the British Canberra — was inbound on a flight from Del Rio, Texas.

The spokesman said the B57 normally carries a crew of two.

He said the plane came in too low on its first landing approach, and crashed on the second landing attempt. The wreckage immediately burst into flame.

Andrews is located near Washington, D. C.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — A flood left 15,000 homeless in Nicaragua's Leon Department today. Only 18 miles away ashes from an erupting volcano destroyed more than 2,000 acres of cotton.

A cloudburst caused the flood at Nagarote, 25 miles northwest of Managua near the western shore of Lake Nicaragua. Inhabitants fled before the water engulfed the town.

Cerro Negro Volcano, 43 miles northwest of Managua has been erupting for two weeks. Yesterday's ashes from the eruption were particularly heavy.

P-TA Group Observes Get Acquainted Night

WOODSTOCK—Get Acquainted Night, the first meeting of the Woodstock Parent-Teachers Association, was held last week.

No business was conducted, except for a report by Mrs. Holly Meyer, regarding the possibility of obtaining school bus transportation for the children attending Woodstock School.

At the present time there is no bus service available. Mrs. Meyer contacted Fred Ohl and reports that a new bus would have to be purchased and fares for the year would be necessary in advance. The fares would range from $1.20 to $1.60 per child per week, depending on the number of children carried. Parents interested in having bus transportation for their children are urged to call Mrs. Meyer.

Walter Van Wagenen, principal of the school addressed the parents on general school aims, policy and procedure. The teaching staff was introduced as follows: Kindergarten—Mrs. Sally Van Wagenen; First Grade—Mrs. Ethel Donaldson; Second Grade—Mrs. Alison Nichols; Third Grade—Mrs. Eleanor Montano; Fourth Grade—Mrs. Lillis Allen; Fifth Grade home room, fifth, sixth, and seventh grade Math—Walter Purhamus; Sixth and Seventh Grade home room, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade languauge skills — Mrs. Bea Doremus; Seventh and Eighth Grade home room, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade Social Studies—Frank Hancock.

Special teachers from the Board of Cooperative Services include: Physical Education, three days a week—John Million; vocal music, three days a week—Hanus A. Schimmerling; instrumental music, one day a week—Sal Castiglione; Home Economics, fifth through eighth grade, one day a week — Mrs. Jenkins.

A new program this year will provide training in Industrial Arts, two days a week, for the fourth through eighth grades, under the direction of Peter Zegel. Such skills as ceramics, woodworking and metalworking will be offered and will be coordinated with the science program.

Art will be offered two days a week as soon as an instructor is available.

Following the meeting teachers met with parents in their rooms and enjoyed refreshments provided by the executive committee.

Girl Scout Leaders Listed by Chairman

The Girl Scout program in Woodstock was launched last week with an announcement by Mrs. Robert Green, Woodstock neighborhood chairman of the appointment of the following troop leaders: Troop 29, 2nd Grade, Mrs. Roger Cashdollar—meets Wednesdays from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m.; Troop 46, 3rd Grade, Mrs. Allan Albrecht — meets Thursdays from 2:45 to 4 p. m.; Troop 95, Mrs. Gordon Van De Bogart, 4th Grade meets Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m.; Troop 27, 5th Grade, Mrs. Fred Stern—meets Wednesdays from 2:45 to 4 p. m.; Troop 12, 6th Grade, Mrs. Ingrid Carol—meets Wednesdays from 2:45 to 4 p. m.; Troop 96, 7th Grade, Mrs. Kermit Schwarz—meets Mondays from 2:45 to 4 p. m.; Troop 74, 8th Grade, Mrs. Joseph Marr—meets Mondays from 2:45 to 4 p. m.

Parents have been requested to sign permission slips for their daughters participation in troop activities. They are also requested to call for their daughters at the close of their respective meetings.

"A uniform gives the girl a sense of belonging and equality," Mrs. Greene said. "We have a uniform exchange (in charge of Mrs. John Majoros) through which your daughter may obtain a uniform in good condition, free of charge. Likewise, any outgrown uniform would be appreciated by the exchange. London's in Kingston is the store authorized to sell the National Girl Scout uniforms."

Jury Is to Probe Motorboat Death

GLENS FALLS (AP)— A grand jury will investigate a collision of two motorboats on Lake George that killed a woman.

A coroner suggested that a study be made to determine whether state navigation laws had been violated.

Dr. Hilton H. Dier made the recommendation yesterday in his report on an inquest he held in the death of Mrs. Edward Bottum, 58, of Cohoes.

District Attorney Robert J. Nolan said the case would be presented to a Warren County grand jury that convenes Oct. 7 at Lake George.

Inboard motor boats operated by Marion L. Henry, 50, of McKownville, Mrs. Bottum's son-in-law, and Charles C. Freihofer Jr., 41, of Troy, collided Aug. 11. Mrs. Bottum was riding with Henry.

Henry is director of State Health Department accounts. Freihofer is secretary of the Freihofer Baking Co.

Kilburn Would Name Seaway Lock for Snell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Kilburn (R-NY) today joined with those who favor naming a huge St. Lawrence Seaway lock in honor of former Rep. Bertrand H. Snell, New York Republican.

Snell, 86, served in the House for 24 years before retiring. In 1917 he introduced the first bill to authorize the seaway development. A native of Potsdam, N. Y., he still lives there.

The present name of the lock that Kilburn and others seek to rename "Snell Lock" is the Grasse River Lock. A comparable lock has been named for President Eisenhower by the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. Both are nearing completion in anticipation of the 1959 opening of the 27-foot-deep international waterway.

In a letter to Lewis G. Castle, administrator of the seaway corporation, Kilburn urged that Castle give "most careful consideration" to the suggestion that the lock be named for Snell.

Farm Organizations To Meet in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attention of farm leaders is being centered on a meeting here tomorrow of top-ranking officials of the four big rival farm organizations.

These organizations, which have been at odds on government farm price support and crop control policies, are the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Grange, the National Farmers Union and the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

Leaders of the Grange say the meeting is expected to seek ways of re-uniting the strife-torn farm bloc before Congress moves next session to review present farm programs.

But a spokesman for the Farm Bureau discounted this. He said the meeting had been arranged some time ago to discuss noncontroversial matters. He added that the farm organizations are so far apart on policies that there is little chance of their resolving their differences.

The Farm Bureau favors a further withdrawal of the government from agricultural affairs. But the Farmers Union wants the government to intensify its efforts in behalf of farmers. The other groups have intermediate positions.

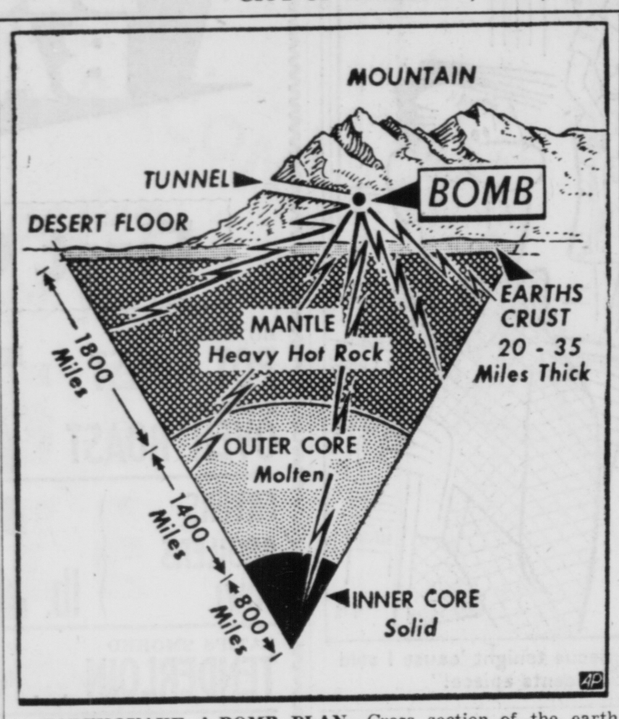

Margarine Sales Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reports that margarine continues to mark up consumption gains over its rival, butter.

The Agriculture Department says U. S. households purchased 90 million pounds of margarine in July, or 7 per cent more than in the corresponding month last year.

But household purchases of butter totaled only 61 million pounds, or about the same as in July last year.

African pygmies have no language of their own. They borrow from full grown neighboring tribes.

EARTHQUAKE A-BOMB PLAN—Cross section of the earth underlying a small mountain in the Nevada nuclear testing area illustrates how shock waves will penetrate the earth's interior when a scheduled atom bomb blast is set off Sept. 14. The bomb equal to only 10,000 tons of TNT, will be exploded at the end of a multi-directional 2,000-foot tunnel cut into the mountain 800 feet under the peak. Shock waves to be recorded around the earth are expected to provide seismologists with new facts about the earth's interior. (AP Wirephoto)

Scientific Dividend Possible

Shock Waves In Bomb Blast May Prove Vital

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP) — The earthquake A-bomb explodes next Wednesday in Nevada. Its shuddering, muffled blast will mark a new step in peaceful world cooperation for science.

This bomb will be set off 800 feet underground, in a tunnel inside a small mountain, at 1 p. m.

As such blasts go in the vast desert northwest of Las Vegas, this will not be a big one. But its shock waves will travel through and around the earth, probably reaching into the heart of the world.

Secrecy Bars Down

Earthquake experts around the globe—Americans, Russians, Britons, Chinese, Australians, all nationalities—will be set to record the waves and share results, a striking scientific dividend in the International Geophysical Year.

Usual bars of secrecy were let down to inform the observers in advance.

How fast the shock waves travel can tell these seismologists new facts about what the earth is like inside from thin crust to hot heavy core. The knowledge could advance the day of sometime being able to predict natural earthquakes.

This earthquake bomb meets the wish of many seismologists to use atomic power as a probe deep into the earth's interior.

Two years ago, requests were made of Washington, London, and Moscow for one to four A-bombs just for earth studies, Dr. K. E. Bullen of Australia disclosed last week. He is president of the International Seismological Assn.

Shock waves from natural earthquakes are the scientists' main tool to learn the structure of our globe.

Waves sent into the earth from A-bombs and H-bombs exploded in the air have helped a bit, too.

But the trouble is that quake specialists never knew just when the natural quake or bomb quake waves started, so they could measure the travel speeds precisely.

Now the Atomic Energy Commission is giving a helping hand to seismologists everywhere by announcing these details in advance. The underground bomb is one in a current series of Nevada tests, and undoubtedly has scientific or military purposes as main objectives.

The quake studies are a dividend for purely peaceful knowledge open to all.

The AEC said the bomb will be exploded at the end of a multi-directional 2,000-foot tunnel cut into a small mountain. It pinpointed the exact location near the northwest corner of the Nevada test site.

It announced the exact hour, plus or minus two minutes. If the blast is delayed more than two minutes, it will be postponed 24 hours. Wind and weather are not the factors in a test of this kind that they might be with a bomb exploded aloft.

It will be a baby bomb, equal

Will Be Baby Bomb

to only 1,000 to 10,000 tons of TNT. The first or nominal A-bombs packed 20,000 tons force.

The blast will be a thousand times smaller than a major natural earthquake, but nonetheless should yield valuable results, Dr. Bullen says.

Some of its revealing shock waves probably will bounce back from the earth's center, adds Dr. Frank Press of the California Institute of Technology. An underground bomb sends a thousand times more energy through the earth than an aerial blast of the same force, he says.

Some seismologists will study the waves to learn more about the earth's core. Others are interested in the makeup of upper layers. Some will use them for clues whether certain mountains rest on the earth's crust, or send down deep iceberg-like roots.

By the present picture, the earth has a thin crust varying from 20 to 35 miles thick. Then comes the mantle of heavy hot rock, in layers, reaching down 1,800 miles. Then a molten inner core for the next 1,400 miles, and an inner core 800 miles in radius. The inner core may be molten, or it may be solid nickel and iron.

Our earth is in no danger from this blast. Probably no one outside the immediate vicinity will feel any quiver, says Dr. Bullen.

President of Council Pretty One

Syracuse Mother Won't Quit Politics When Term Is Ended

By BOB POWELL

SYRACUSE (AP)—Few politicians these days can be described as "pretty," or "attractive."

However, Melanie Kreuzer of Syracuse fits the bill on both counts.

Melanie (Mrs. Frederick A. Kreuzer) is president of the Syracuse Common Council and adds intelligence and foresight to her appearance at government functions.

She was elected to the presidency of the council in November 1953 after a successful term as a member-at-large.

With no previous experience in politics, Mrs. Kreuzer launched a program dealing in finance, traffic and allied subjects during her first term.

Long Interest

A native of this city, where for many years she was active in organizational work, Mrs. Kreuzer said she "always had an interest in government."

"After all, government has a direct influence on the home," she said.

A wife and mother, Melanie's campaign in 1949 for the office of member-at-large was sparked by a group of Boy Scouts whom she had trained as Cub Scouts.

Her son, Tony, now 20, was the chief tub-thumper in the campaign, which included door-bell-ringing and word-passing.

Likes to Fish

When duties at city hall permit, Mrs. Kreuzer, her husband, Fred, an executive in a candle-making company here, and Tony hide out at Oneida Lake for a day's fishing. Tony is a student at Lemoyne College.

In addition to wielding a heavy gavel over the otherwise all-male council, Mrs. Kreuzer acts as mayor when Mayor Donald Mead is called away.

"The job takes all my time, but I love it," she said.

The closer one gets to government the greater one's appreciation and respect becomes for it.

Won't Quit Politics

Under the Syracuse charter, Mrs. Kreuzer will not be eligible for reelection this fall. Neither she nor the mayor can succeed themselves in office.

However, Mrs. Kreuzer doesn't plan to end her political career in November.

"I'm not sure what I shall do. I will remain in active government work depending on the job that might be open.

WSKN Opening Red Hook Studios Monday Morning

New studios will be opened Monday in Red Hook, it has been announced by Skylark Corp., which operates Radio Station WSKN in Mt. Marion.

John Lynker, president and general manager of the broadcasting firm, said the Dutchess county location will be in the Harter building where latest Hi-Fi broadcasting units are being installed.

The first program Monday will be sent over the air at 11 a. m., Lynker said, and continue daily at that time from then on, except on Saturdays and Sundays.

The new studios are an additional broadcasting base to the Mt. Marion locale, Bob Browning's studio in the Governor Clinton Hotel here and the four mobile units WSKN has in the field.

The station, licensed by the Federal Communications Commission as a regional one, covers events in Ulster, Dutchess, Greene and Columbia counties.

Lynker said the Red Hook studio is significant of the rapid growth of the Hudson Valley area.

Justice Unseals Jury Report on Patrolman Trial

ROCHESTER (AP) — A Monroe County grand jury's report that set off a controversy when it was sealed by a state Supreme Court justice last May was unsealed by the justice yesterday.

Justice Charles B. Brasser said in a 13-page decision that his intent in sealing the report earlier had been to avoid prejudicing the trial of a city patrolman indicted by the grand jury.

Brasser reiterated, however, earlier statements that there is no law empowering a jury to make reports or presentments.

He conceded that there was a question as to whether "a grand jury is empowered by implication to make a report calling attention to any inefficiency, carelessness or neglect requiring correction."

The courts, he said, "are not in harmony on this subject," but "are all in accord that this is the only possible circumstance under which a grand jury is authorized to make a report."

In ordering the grand jury's report sealed last May, Brasser had said that a grand jury should not criticize public officials unless there was evidence for an indictment.

Some Protest 'Gag'

Some of the 18 jurors protested that they had been "gagged" and began to raise money for an appeal to the State Court of Appeals.

Robert M. Blakney, chairman of the grand jurors Public Service Committee, said the unsealing of the report yesterday "does not change our aims."

Brasser explained in his decision that if the contents of the report had been made public last May 23 they could have been prejudicial to the trial of a former Rochester police patrolman, John Lipari, who was later convicted of a charge of criminally receiving stolen property.

"When a jury returns an indictment," Brasser said, "it should not at the same time make a report of its investigation out of which the indictment arose."

The grand jury's report said the jurors had found "no evidence that Lipari had accomplices within the police force." Part of their report also dealt with a series of previously published newspaper articles on the functions of grand juries. The jurors took exception to statements by Brasser and by Supreme Court Justice Daniel J. O'Mara regarding limitations of the powers of a grand jury.

Brasser ordered that part of the jurors report erased from the court record on the ground that there is no law empowering a grand jury to make reports.

Varied Program Is Offered

Registration at Boys Club Opens Next Week for Season

The Kingston Boys Club opens its eleventh season of activity at the clubhouse, 139 Greenkill Avenue, next week. A varied program of activities will be planned to keep over 40 members busy during their free time.

During the 1957-58 season a boy may participate in any of the following activities:

Quiet games, active games such as carroms, nok-hockey and billiards; wood work, various crafts, library, programs, gymnastics, touch-football, and basketball. TV can be watched at any time and the weekly movie show will start in November.

During the summer the Boys Club featured learn-to-swim classes and over-night camping.

During the school vacation 21 non-swimmers spent two mornings each week learning swimming skills at Kingston Point Beach. A more extensive learn-to-swim program will be planned next summer because records show that more than 40 per cent of the Boys Club members are non-swimmers.

Through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Schulman 36 different Boys Club members participated in overnight camping at Camp Kingston. Groups of six to eight boys would spend the day making camp, cooking their own meals and swimming on Mirror Lake.

Registration for new and old members will also begin next week. The Boys Club is open six days a week. On weekdays the clubhouse will be open in the afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30 and in the evening from 6:30 to 9:30. Members leave in the evening according to age. On Saturdays the hours will be from 10:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

The Boys Club is a member agency of the Kingston Area Community Chest.

Chevrolet to Build Aluminum Foundry

DETROIT (AP)—The Chevrolet division of General Motors says it will break ground within a month for construction of a new aluminum foundry near Massena, N. Y.

The 12-million-dollar plant will be built adjacent to an 88-million-dollar aluminum reduction plant being built by the Reynolds Metals Co.

The Chevrolet plant is expected to employ more than 300 workers when it is completed in June, 1959.

Edward H. Kelley, general manufacturing manager for Chevrolet, said last night that contracts had been awarded to the John W. Rouse Construction Co. of Gouverneur, N. Y., as general contractor, and to Taylor & Gaskin Inc., of Detroit, for structural steel.

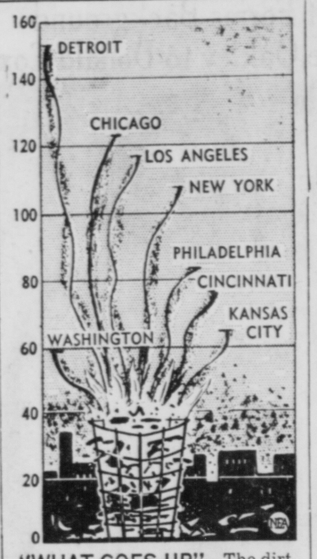

Gets Extra Sentence

BRANTFORD, Ont. (AP)—James Harrigan of Niagara Falls, N. Y., who escaped from the Burtch industrial farm for one hour, was sentenced yesterday to an additional six months in prison.

Harrigan was sent to the farm Sept. 4 to serve a three-months sentence for theft. He escaped early Tuesday and was found by two guards about a mile away from the farm.

State Man Installed

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Fred J. Hollenbeck of Cape Vincent, N. Y., was installed as senior vice commander last night by Veterans of World War I, closing their fifth annual meeting here.

"WHAT GOES UP"—The dirt rising from an incinerator and other causes must come down. A national organization's survey on polluted air shows (see Newschart) how many tons of "particulate matter" — dirt—there is in each cubic mile of atmosphere over many U.S. cities. Minneapolis was found to be the cleanest sizable city with only 53 tons. Housewives, the survey revealed, add great amounts of dirt to the air just shaking dustmops. A back yard incinerator, it added, is worse than a blast furnace in raising more dirt per ton of material burned.

Woodstock Foundation to Present Tenth Annual Play; Proceeds Aid Worthy Artists

On Friday and Saturday, Sept. 13 and 14, the Woodstock Foundation will once again present a play, proceeds of which will aid worthy artists, writers, musicians and many other creative persons in the community.

This year's presentation will be "Gold in the Hills," a melodrama filled with the elements that once thrilled audiences of the Gay 90s.

To Honor Founder

Members of the Foundation are presenting this play also in memory of Sidney Berkowitz, founder and past president, whose recent death left a wide breach in the ranks of the group.

When Mr. Berkowitz set up the aims and ideals of the organization, along with John Striebel, he believed that it should be a town project with the entire community, a noted art colony, working together to raise the amounts needed for the awards. In this way, the award winners would be able to live and work in the town secure in the knowledge that they had the support and help of the entire township rather than one sponsor.

This year, it is also planned that one of the awards will be given in memory of Sidney Berkowitz. The number of awards will be determined solely by the amount of available funds raised by the play and personal donations.

Popular Melodrama

"Gold in the Hills" is one of the best of the popular melodramas. It is decked with a lovely, desperate heroine, "Our Nell," who flutters demurely through her tribulations to be played by Anne Balk.

This year the Foundation is happy again to have the talents of Robert Eric Carlwon, noted concert singer of the Carolers and formerly with the Fred Waring organization, who plays the stalwart hero, John Dalton, son of the soil who conquers all. Mr. Carlwon returns to play the role he created for the 1950 production of the play.

Edmund Good plays Richard Murgatroyd, the smooth-talking charmer from the city, whose performance is guaranteed to send chills up and down the spine as he tightens his infamous web about the unsuspecting family.

Yes, there's even a mortgage and the old family homestead may have to go!

The Prologue, which has always been the effective bridge by which the audience is led deftly across the century mark back into a beaded-lampshade era, and certainly less sophisticated than the present day, will be presented by Houston Richards, who also directs the play. With his entrance, the moustaches twirl, black-caped figures swoop about to devise their wicked schemes, and a cane becomes the symbol of a gentleman as the stirring drama begins.

Mr. Richards, who also guided the 1949 and 1950 productions of the play through their hilarious performances, extends a reminder that they were given all of seven and eight years ago. Konrad King, who played the little boy Tommy in the 1950 production, has grown up since that time to play the big husky part of Chuck Connors, a famous character of his time.

Variety Offered

Artist John Pike, who designed and painted the original mural used in the big second act scene in Big Mike's Beer Garden and Dance Hall on the Bowery, has again painted another mural which is described by those who have seen it as a "Corker." Mr. Pike's original mural was auctioned off after the last production, bringing a sizeable sum to the coffers of the Foundation.

Everyone who saw the original show remembers that the second act offers a fine opportunity for a lively song and dance interlude, and this year will be no exception. Although some of the acts are still to be announced, stars scheduled to appear are Jane Wilson, soprano soloist with the Fred Waring Orchestra, Harrison Muller, noted TV and stage luminary in the dance world and Joseph Riela, Woodstock's own authentic barber shop tenor.

There are a host of other colorful characters in the play, Sam Slade, the villain's shadow, Big Mike Slattery, Pete the Rat, Old Kate, Slick Steve and the inevitable Bowery derelict.

This is a show wherein the audience joins in the fun, sighs over the handsome hero, weeps for the heroine, and hisses the villain for all their worth as he prowls about his nefarious machinations. Refreshments will be served by a zealous band of Singing Waiters and Barmaids, and the fun begins long before curtain time, which is 8:40 p. m. Friday and Saturday, Sept. 13 and 14.

Convention Date Set For Practical Nurses

The annual convention of the National Federation of Licensed Practical Nurses, will be held in Peoria, Ill., September 21-30, according to Mrs. Anna Hasselman, president of the Ulster County Division.

Theme of this year's convention is "United in Action." This is a reference to the growing cooperation between registered nurse and licensed practical nurse groups in pursuing state and national goals.

Evidence of this cooperation is the recent creation of a council on practical nursing within the structure of the National League for Nursing, and the recent joint legislative campaign in New York by both groups to win voting representation for practical nurses on the state board of examiners of nurses.

Coroner Fails To Explain Role In Boy's Death

SCHENECTADY (AP)—Dr. Roland Faulkner, the Schenectady County coroner, declined last night to appear before the county board of supervisors to explain his part in the investigation of the death of Peter Curran, 11.

Faulkner issued a certificate of accidental death for the boy, who was found hanging near his home in Ballston Lake July 20. In August, state police arrested Donald Smith, 23, of Ballston Lake, on a charge of murdering the boy.

Faulkner told the board in a letter that he felt an appearance before the board at this time "might impair the cause of justice."

The Curran case is under investigation by a Saratoga County grand jury and by Gov. Harriman's acting investigation commissioner, Arthur L. Reuter.

The board adopted a resolution asking Faulkner to appear after the investigations and any trial in the boy's murder are completed.

Reuter is investigating the actions of Faulkner and two Saratoga County officials, Sheriff Wesley DeVoe and Dist. Atty. Carleton King.

Changes Listed In Auto Damage, Property Reports

ALBANY (AP) — Starting Oct. 1, New York motorists will have to report only those property-damage accidents that cost more than $100 to repair—but reports will have to be in duplicate.

Two new laws going into effect that day will change the current procedure, which requires reports on all property accidents with damages over $50—but only on copy of the report.

The State Motor Vehicle Bureau said today the $50 level was raised to keep pace with rising repair costs. The bureau said the $100 level would eliminate many thousands of reports on dented fenders and the like.

The bureau has issued a new, streamlined form of reporting accidents. One copy will be retained by the bureau. It will send the duplicate to the local law enforcement agency concerned so that it, too, may have a complete record of major accidents.

There is no change in the legal requirement for reporting all accidents in which a person is injured, regardless of the extent or the amount of property damage involved.

Really Helped Himself

TORONTO (AP) — When a man asked a suburban North York woman in her back yard yesterday for a drink of water she told him to go into the house and help himself.

He did—to $4,000 in cash, jewelry and bonds, she told police.

Peck to Quit State Bench

NEW YORK (AP)—State Supreme Court Justice David W. Peck has announced he will retire from the bench when his 14-year term ends Dec. 31.

Peck said in announcing his decision last night that he will return to the private practice of law.

There was some newspaper speculation that his retirement raised the possibility that he would be candidate for governor or some other post on the Republican state ticket next year.

For the past 10 years Peck has been presiding justice of the Appellate Division, First Department. This department of the Supreme Court covers Manhattan and the Bronx.

Peck, 54, has been in the forefront of the drive for court reorganization to speed up justice during the 10 years he has been presiding justice.

He said in his retirement statement that substantial progress has been made through reforms in court administration and procedure in eliminating delays.

"In returning to the private practice of law," he said, "I want to assure the public of my continued concern with the courts and of my continued efforts to bring about the needed changes in the court system."

Peck said: "I have withstood many tempting offers over the years to leave the bench earlier for other fields, but I felt an obligation to sit out my full term of 14 years."

Benedictine Nursing School Seeks $300,000

WASHINGTON (AP) —Twenty-two colleges, universities and hospitals filed applications in August with the Community Facilities Administration for college housing loans totaling $23,423,000, CFA said today.

The loans are sought to provide housing for student nurses and interns.

CFA said it has not acted on the applications, and is announcing their receipt to enable private lenders to negotiate with the institutions if they desire.

The applications include these from New York: Albany Medical Center School of Nursing, $1,375,000; Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing, Kingston, $300,000; Long Island University, Brooklyn, $2,850,000; Memorial Hospital, Albany, $592,000; Mercy Hospital School of Nursing, Watertown, $500,000; Misericordia Hospital, New York, $847,000; St. Mary's Hospital School of Nursing, Amsterdam, $500,000.

School Crisis Is Developing On Enrollment

ALBANY (AP)—"A new crisis in education" appears to be developing as New York State public schools enter the fall term, the education commissioner says.

Dr. James E. Allen Jr. said yesterday the principal cause of concern was a record-high enrollment estimated at more than 2,670,000 pupils.

He said this complicated the problems of hiring fully qualified teachers, meeting rising costs of construction and responding to demands for economy in school programs.

Allen cautioned against "unwarranted and ill-considered economies" that he said would result "only in shortchanging youth" of their educational opportunities.

Many schools will be overcrowded this year, he said, and a few pupils will attend school in shifts.

Makarios, Ave To Confer Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Archbishop Makarios, the Greek Cypriot leader, and Gov. Harriman will confer at the governor's town house here late today, the governor's office in Albany announced.

Archbishop Makarios is arriving in New York today on the liner Queen Frederica.

There was controversy abroad after Harriman sent a letter to the archbishop last April which was interpreted as an invitation to visit the United States.

Turkish government officials protested. The Turks — who have a minority population on Cyprus —have opposed the archbishop's activity on Cyprus to promote union between the British-controlled land and Greece.

Harriman later denied that his letter to the archbishop was an invitation. The letter said: "I hope that the State of New York will shortly have the opportunity of extending to you its hospitality and warm welcome."

Scientists Finding Out New Things About the Earth

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP) — The International Geophysical Year is already beginning to pay dividends of new or unexpected knowledge about our earth, scientists said today.

Some findings:

X-rays from the sun's radiations have been found to exist only 40 miles or so above our heads.

Northern and southern lights or aurorae can blink on at the same time.

High-flying rockets have captured particles of energy believed to cause these aurorae.

In Antarctica, temperatures can vary 100 degrees over distances no farther apart than New York and Chicago, or between San Francisco and Seattle. This must have profound effects upon weather generated in that vast frozen continent.

The earth's atmosphere seems to reach up, in terribly thin form, to heights of one to several thousand miles into space.

The IGY is a concerted, share-all-knowledge effort by scientists of 64 nations to learn secrets of our home planet earth, our sun, the atmosphere and oceans. West and east, north and south are all members. IGY began two months ago, lasts another 16 months.

Leading IGY scientists described programs and preliminary findings for a symposium on earth, air and space in reports prepared for delivery today at the Hayden Planetarium of the American Museum of Natural History. It is one event in the national program of the American Chemical Society.

Coordinated Planning Seen Vital to Meet State Growth

BEAR MOUNTAIN (AP) — The state commerce commissioner today called for broad-scale regional planning to relieve what he said was a crisis posed by post-war community growth.

Edward T. Dickinson declared that action was needed in the New York-New Jersey-Connecticut region to cope with common problems.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a meeting of the State Federation of Official Planning Organizations, Dickinson said the planning problem in the greater New York area was "15 million people big."

He said coordinated planning was needed in the fields of water supply, sewage disposal, highway construction and safety, industrial development and public transportation.

Dickinson urged the government planners to lay their problems before the people.

"Unless the taxpayer is made fully aware that the problems of his community are the problems of all communities in a large metropolitan area," Dickinson said, "he will not support the concerted regional approach we must take to find the solutions."

In Washington yesterday, the Urban Renewal Administration announced a grant of $65,150 to the State Commerce Department to meet the federal government's 50 per cent share of the cost of planning work in a dozen municipalities.

Taxpayer Must Be Told

Dickinson said each community would pay 25 per cent of the cost and the state the other 25.

The municipalities and the total cost of their programs are:

Cities — Canandaigua, $10,000; Geneva, $14,000; Hornell, $11,000; Little Falls, $13,600, and Middletown, $18,500.

Towns—Chili and Ogden in Monroe County, $5,000 and $3,000 respectively; and Eden in Erie County, $8,000.

Villages — Gowanda in Erie and Cattaraugus Counties, $7,500; Hamilton, Madison County, $4,800; Ossining, Westchester County, $16,400, and Rockville Centre, Nassau County, $16,500.

Full School Story Told in Prospectus Put Out by Board

A 90-page report and prospectus entilted "Scholars and Cents" has been published by the Kingston Board of Education describing local school operation, costs and various other matters of interest to parents and taxpayers.

Robert S. Macdonald, assistant superintendent of schools, who prepared the report, was praised by the board at its meeting last week for the excellence and quality of the report.

President Robert Herzog said it was a "beautiful job."

The report contains a full statement of all moneys expended during the preceding school year, lists bond issues and many other matters relating to the operation of the Kingston public school system. It also takes a look at the future.

The report was published primarily to provide the public with an "overview"—a perspective—of local schools. The board hopes to publish such a report annually. This is the second.

In a letter addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, Macdonald points out that the pamphlet is published to meet the requirements of the Education Law of the State of New York and "to explain the comparative costs of operating the Kingston Schools year by year. For that reason, once again, the budget for the school year, 1957-58 is compared with the actual expenditures for the school year 1956-57.

"It is the sincere desire of the Kingston Board of Education and the administrative staff of the Kingston Schools that the information contained herein may answer many of your questions about you schools and give you a better insight into the goals of education today."

TwainBookTaken Off School List, Negroes Complain

NEW YORK (AP) — Mark Twain's "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" no longer is on the approved textbook list for city elementary and junior high schools.

Miss Ethel Huggard, associate school superintendent in charge of curriculum development, confirmed yesterday that three textbook contracts for the book had not been renewed in the past two years.

"Huckleberry Finn'" has been criticized by some Negroes as racially offensive. A spokesman for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said yesterday he was unaware of any organized protest against the book. However, he said, the NAACP strongly objected to "racial slurs" in Twain's works.

Miss Huggard denied that the book was dropped because it contained passages derogatory to Negroes. It was felt the story was really not a textbook, she said, adding that those pupils wanting to read it could obtain copies in the school libraries.

Ankara Area Floods Kill 1,000

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkish newspapers said today 1,000 persons died in flash floods which swept through the crooked streets of seven villages on the outskirts of this capital yesterday. But the official death toll remained at 14 —the number of bodies which rescue workers have recovered and reported to the government.

In some areas the flood wave reached 90 feet as water from cloudbursts rushed down narrow valleys from barren, and treeless mountain slopes. Rescue teams groped through the muddy rains, seeking victims of the floodwaters which swept into Ankara itself, covering low-lying areas and stalling traffic in waves of mud. They estimated that 500 to 1,000 homes had been destroyed and more than 2,000 flooded.

The greatest damage was reported in the villages of Kayas and Amak, east of Ankara. Reports were incomplete from that area.

Democrats Name Economists to Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic national chairman, Paul. M. Butler, announced yesterday the selection of 21 economists and others to serve on an advisory committee on economic policy.

The group will assist the advisory council of the Democratic National Committee, formed to advance party programs and principles.

Among those selected were Isador Lubin, New York State Industrial Commissioner, and Robert C. Weaver, New York State rent administrator.

Butler named the high cost of living as a major party issue.

When the husband started about his business as usual the morning of his 25th wedding anniversary, the wife was rightfully annoyed.

Hubby—Sure I do.

Wife—Well, how are we going to celebrate?

He meditated for a moment, then he suggested quietly,

Husband—How about two minutes of silence?

Husband (after viewing the crumpled fender)—Well dear, did the officer scold you for driving upon the boulevard?

New Driver—No, he was just lovely, John. He said the city really planted those 1,260 trees along Ash St. just to keep lady drivers from getting up on people's front porches.

It is better to light a candle than to curse the darkness.—Chinese Proverb.

The husband is head of the house, and the pedestrian has the right-of-way. Both are fairly safe if they don't try to exercise their rights.

Joey—Mother, please give me a nickel for the poor man who is crying out in front of the house.

Mother—Certainly, dear. But what is he crying about?

Joey—He's crying, "Ice cream, 5 cents a cone."

To a tourist in a mountainous region a guide remarked,

Guide—There's a glorious echo around here, but you have to shout very loud. Now you just yell, "Two bottles of beer!"

The tourist shouted, then listened intently. At last he said,

Tourist—I don't hear any echo.

Guide—Oh, well, here comes the bartender with 2 bottles of beer, anyway.

WHO SAID: "IF THEY WANT WAR, LET IT BEGIN HERE"?

That is the substance of what Captain John Parker (1729-1775) is supposed to have said to his Minute Men at Lexington. On the evening of April 18, 1775, General Thomas Gage sent 800 light infantry and marines under Lieutenant Colonel Francis Smith to destroy military stores at Concord, 17 miles away.

Along Capitol Corridors

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY (AP) — Like all Gaul, the working population of the state capitol is divided into three parts.

There are those who believe, those who do not and those who prefer to wait and see. Along capitol corridors, debate rages.

The devisive factor is that controversial bird, the pigeon, whose persistently careless personal hygiene has prompted yet another attempt to evict him from the roosting spot of state government.

Under the appreciative eye of the believer and the gimlet eye of the doubtful, a new war on the capitol's messy pigeon flock was joined this week.

Historic Battleground

The battleground, the inner court of the state capitol, was a histroic one. The signs of previous major conflicts and isolated skirmishes were there for all to see.

Rows of steel spikes ran along the window ledges. These had not dissuaded the pigeons from alighting. The pigeons used them to prevent eggs from rolling off the ledges.

Here and there a shiny paper clip gleamed in the sluggish morning sun. They had been fired from rubber-band slings from office windows opening on the (ugh!) court.

Fink displayed all the cheery confidence that a $19,500 contract from the state would afford. His strategy, he said, had been tried and proved on state capitols and other public buildings around the nation.

What Fink proposed to do was to clean up the mess and keep the court pigeon-free for at least five years. His men began spreading ribbons of the gooey, yellowish chemical that Fink had developed.

Won't Hurt Birds

"What happens," said Fink, "Is that the chemical gives the birds a mild hot foot. It won't hurt them, but they don't return."

That day and the next, capitol office managers found their employes were spending more time at the window than at the water cooler.

"Ah," said one observer, happily. "Look, there are no pigeons on that treated spot."

"They're just scared," put in another. "You wait 'til they get used to it. They'll be back."

"I dunno. I think it might work," said a third, rather wishfully. "Better wait and see."

One bird landed in a strip of goo, took off promptly.

Did he get a hotfoot? Will he come back? Who cares about the World Series?

Cat-tastrophe

EL CAJON, Calif. (AP)—A kitten was accidentally shovelled into a 70-foot abandoned dry well. This stopped the job of filling the well until rescue could be completed by Frank Beforth and Martin Roberts, two U. S. Marines, who had been working on the job. They lowered a parakeet cage into the well at the end of a long wire. The kitten obligingly crawled into the cage and was hoisted out of the well, unharmed.

Will Braves Collapse Like Dodgers of 1951?

Cardinals 4½ Games Away and Coming Fast

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Is that a miracle or a mirage taking shape in the National League pennant race?

A miracle finish, such as the New York Giants staged in 1951, is like a tango. It takes two. Even a spirited sprint down the stretch, such as the Giants' 37-7 drive six years ago, won't bring a payoff unless the leader collapses, as did the Brooklyn Dodgers when they lost 23 of their last 49 and then blew it all to the Giants in the three-game pennant playoff.

That's the situation in the NL race now. The second-place St. Louis Cardinals have won seven of their last eight while Milwaukee's first-place Braves, perhaps building pressure by insisting there isn't any, have lost five of their last eight.

Spahn Balked

The Cards stayed with it last night, battering Philadelphia 14-6 and climbing within 4½ games of the Braves, who were dropped 2-1 by the Pittsburgh Pirates. Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's ace, was sidetracked in his bid to become the majors' first 20-game winner of the year after winning nine straight.

The Cardinals, who have whittled four games from Milwaukee's supposed impregnable 8½-game Labor Day bulge in eight games, have 15 games remaining, three with the Braves at Milwaukee. The Braves have 16 left, and still can nail it with any combination of victories and St. Louis defeats totaling 12.

The New York Yankees reduced their magic number for the American League flag to 11 with a split in a day-night doubleheader against Cleveland. Ol' Sal Maglie tossed a three-hitter that beat his former Tribe mates 5-0 in the opener, but Ray Narleski then set down the Yankees on four hits in Cleveland's 4-1 nightcap victory.

Lead at 5½ Games

That left the Champs with a 5½-game lead over Chicago's second-place White Sox, who scored three in the 11th and beat Boston 4-1. Third-place Brooklyn, seven games behind Milwaukee, defeated the Chicago Cubs 9-1 in the only other NL game scheduled.

In the other AL games, a pair of twi-night doubleheaders, Detroit swept Washington 3-0 and 12-2, and Baltimore split with Kansas City, winning 6-2 after a 7-3 defeat.

The Cardinals, hitting their one-game scoring high of the season, rapped 15 hits off ex-mate Harvey Haddix and five relievers while collecting a pair of six-run innings. Del (The Menace) Ennis drove in three runs with his 22nd and 23rd home runs—giving him six home runs and 15 RBIs while batting .455 in the Cards' eight-game spurt.

Classic Performance

Maglie, the 40-year-old right-hander Cleveland snubbed as "just another guy" after buying him from the Giants in 1955, gave up a single to Joe Caffie and Russ Nixon's ground rule double in the second, then no-hit the Tribe until Nixon singled with two out in the ninth. It was Sal's first American League victory.

Narleski, 4-0 vs the Yankees since July 25, 1954, was touched for two hits by Hank Bauer, one an RBI triple in the fifth that cut the Indians' lead to 2-1. The Tribe rapped Bobby Shantz for eight hits in his seven frames, with Chico Carrasquel getting two and driving in the payoff run with a sacrifice fly. Shantz and Narleski both have 10-5 records.

No. 3 Team Gains Eastern Finals

By The Associated Press

The No. 3 club of the Eastern League was assured today of a place in the final Governors' Cup playoffs, but for No. 1 the issue was still in doubt.

Taking advantage of some unearned runs, the Reading Indians last night defeated runner-up Schenectady for the third straight time and won the best-of-five semi-final playoff series. The host Indians, who finished third for the season, took the game 6-3.

The pennant-winning Binghamton Triplets however, were held at bay by the Senators at Albany, as airtight relief pitching by Bob Adubato gave Albany a 4-3 edge. The series now stands at 2-1 in favor of the Triplets.

Red Sox Leader

BOWLING SCORES

Bowlero Major League keglers acted the part last night with a half dozen robust "600" triples, the highest being a 687 slam by Frank Grimaldi on games of 222, 235 and 230.

Charlie Manfro was runnerup with 661 on lines of 229, 206 and 226.

Wilkinson Crying Oklahoma Blues

NORMAN, Okla., (AP) — The football season is here and Oklahoma's pessimistic and successful Coach Bud Wilkinson is crying.

Oklahoma has won the national championship the past two seasons, and has a 40-game winning streak.

"Being realistic I know it would be a fine thing for the Big Seven conference if we'd lose some conference games," he said. "I hate to be too realistic about it but I know it's going to happen and may happen this year."

He said two of the reasons the conference will be tougher are "two new coaches—Frank Broyles at Missouri and Jim Myers at Iowa State."

Then Wilkinson added: "We're going to lose some games some day. It has to happen. But when it happens I hope the people won't think it's because we got fat and happy and quit working. It will be because the other teams have improved—not because we got too content."

Round Table in Laurel Feature

WASHINGTON (AP)—Round Table today was selected to team with Gallant Man as America's representatives in the $100,000 Washington, D. C., International Turf Classic at Laurel, Nov. 11.

Ralph Lowe, Midland, Tex., oilman, already has accepted for Gallant Man. Whether Travis M. Kerr, Oklahoma City owner of Round Table, will do likewise for the West Coast sensation is a question. Kerr has said Round Table would be returned to the West Coast for a rest after the $100,000 weight-for-age Woodward Stakes at Belmont Park, Sept. 28.

Amateur Golf Play Upholds Predictions

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The golf experts who predicted that Harvie Ward's suspension from amateur competition would make the 57th National Amateur Championship the most evenly contested in years apparently were absolutely right.

There wasn't a solid favorite in the field when the tournament began Monday and there still wasn't one today when 16 survivors moved into another double round of eliminations. That was quite a change from the past two years, when the first question was "Who will be playing Harvie in the final?"

Ward, the winner for the past two years, was put on probation early this summer for violation of the rules regarding expense payments.

One of the two players he beat for his titles, Chuck Kocsis, remained in the field today, when two 18-hole rounds were to reduce it to the four semi-finalists.

The solid choices to be around for the 36-hole semifinals Friday were Dr. Bud Taylor, of Pomona, Calif.; Dick Yost, of Portland, Ore., Dick Chapman, Osterville, Mass., and Pinehurst, N. C., who has held both the U. S. and British amateur championships; Hillman Robbins, of Memphis, Tenn.; Kocsis, and Rex Baxter Jr., a solidly-built 21-year-old Texan.

Yesterday Ward Wettlaufer of Buffalo, who upset Billy Joe Patton Tuesday, lost to Eddie Meyerson of Los Angeles, 3 and 2. Another upstate New Yorker, John Konsek of Lancaster, was defeated 1 up by Charles Coe of Oklahoma City.

Jones Dairy travels to Liberty Triangle Diner and Prospect Dairies are host to Channel Master at the Central Recs.

The Liberty keglers launched their season with a 3-0 sweep and are tied with Middletown Merchants. First night honors went to Jones Dairy, 2934; Charles Men's Shop, 1037; Jerry Oster, 673 and Bill Tarsio, Newburgh, 255.

Steeler Head Gives Parker High Rating

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP)—"He's the captain of the ship and whatever he does is perfectly okay with me."

That was what Art Rooney, president of the National Football League's Pittsburgh Steelers, said last night as he praised the work of his new coach, Buddy Parker.

Parker, who took over the Steelers little more than two weeks ago, surprised many Steeler fans yesterday when he handed veteran halfback Lynn Chandnois his outright release.

The release climaxed an eventful day which saw the Steelers pick up three players in trades with the Washington Redskins and Parker's old team, the Detroit Lions.

"I just thought Chandnois had played long enough for the Steelers," Parker said quietly. Chandnois, a veteran of 7 years with the club, expressed surprise and said he figures he has at least two more years of football left.

Before releasing Chandnois, Parker picked up Jack Kemp, a 6-2 quarterback, and tackle Dave Liddick from the Lions. He also obtained fullback Dale Atkeson from Washington for tackle Dale Owens.

In still another development, halfback Johnny Lattner, the former Notre Dame All-America and the Steelers' No. 1 draft choice in 1954, resigned. He said an knee injury suffered while in the air force still gives him trouble.

Air Force Team Makes Big Time

DENVER, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Air Force Academy accepted today an invitation to replace Florida as UCLA's opponent at Los Angeles Friday night, Sept. 20, moving the new service school into big-time grid competition.

The way was opened for the game, an Academy spokesman said, when Florida cancelled its date because of an outbreak of influenza in the state.

The Academy, now in its third year, has been scheduled to open its gridiron season against Occidental College of Los Angeles at Denver, Sept. 28.

Small Crowd Sees Slam Bang Mat Program Here

Less than 300 watched the highly touted Lewin Brothers—Mark, 235, and Don, 230—win over Irish (Skull) Murphy, 240, of Cork, Ireland and Larry Hamilton, 232, of Stone Mountain, Georgia, by disqualification in third and deciding fall of their riotous tag-team finale.

Murphy scored the first fall for his team with a series of slams and a body press on brother Mark in 11:09 for the first fall. The Buffalo lads came back to gain the equalizer at 3:20.

That left the troupe somewhat short of the 11 o'clock time limit but after 4:05 of awful scuffling, most of it in the Murphy-Hamilton corner, Referee Chic Gaynor disqualified Murphy and Hamilton for tactics that would make even a dock walloper blush.

Hamilton The Heavy

With due respect to Murphy's reputation as a meanie, it was Hamilton who essayed histrionics and put on a tremendous performance. He was the lead man each time and raised havoc with blood pressure of Lewin fans—nearly the whole crowd.

Other results:

Cowboy Don Lee, 305, Stone Mountain, Ga., won from Aldo Venturi, 220, New York, with a slam and body press in 19:55 of a scheduled 30-minute contest.

Ramon Lopez, 220, of Mexico City, used a reverse flip to pin Joe Hamilton, 220, Stone Mountain, Ga., in 21 minutes, 30 reconds of a 30-minute bout.

Jose Perez, 218, Puerto Rice flipped Chris Belkas, 218, Boston, in 22:15 of a one-fall bout.

Martinez KOs Foe But Trainer Puts on Show

CHICAGO (AP)—The best fight at Chicago Stadium last night could have been between a trainer and a referee.

As it was, Larry Baker, eighth ranking welterweight from New York, wound up restraining his handler, Jack Friday, from going after referee Bernard Weissman.

This all happened after Baker lost to Vince Martinez, No. 4 contender from Paterson, N. J., on a technical knockout in the ninth round.

Weissman stepped between them. Martinez apparently thought the fight had been stopped. But Weissman quickly looked at Baker's eye and moved away.

Sudden Reversal

Baker, no longer reeling, tore after Martinez. From then on Baker smashed him at will, but the bell sounded before Martinez could be chopped down.

Between rounds, Dr. Irving Slott of the Illinois Athletic Commission, inspected Baker's eye. He told the referee to stop the fight. Baker was not permitted to come out of his corner for the ninth, losing his first fight in his last dozen starts.

Maglie Repays Cleveland for 1955 Snub–3-0

NEW YORK (AP)—After two years of waiting, ol' Sal Maglie finally had his chance to prove himself to the Cleveland Indians. And he did—with the help of an orange, a nasal spray and slow stuff that got slower.

It was in 1955 that the New York Giants put Maglie on the market and the Indians grabbed him, not to bolster a pitching staff that already had Bob Lemon, Early Wynn, Mike Garcia and rookie Herb Score, but to keep the New York Yankees from getting him.

To the Tribe, the menacing barber who had helped the Giants to National League pennants in 1951 and 1954 (and who was to help win the 1956 flag for Brooklyn) was "just another guy."

They snubbed him. When he was peddled to Brooklyn in May, 1956, Maglie had an 0-2 record in the American League for 31 innings.

First as Yank

Ol' Sal made it 1-2 as a Yankee yesterday, spinning a sweet three-hit shutout that shut up the Injuns 5-0 in an 11th hour crack at the Tribe. It was the next-to-last game between the two clubs this season, and at 40, Maglie doesn't figure to be around next year.

Ironically, it was Wynn, four times a 20-game winner, who was on the mound for Cleveland as Maglie went to work despite a heavy cold.

"Old Folks" gave up two hits in the second—Joe Caffie's single and Russ Nixon's ground rule double—then didn't allow another until Nixon singled with two out in the ninth.

Given a lead when the Yankees grabbed a pair of unearned runs in the fourth, Maglie showed the effects of his cold on the warm, humid afternoon when he gave up two of his three walks in the fifth.

"I was really feeling low," he said. "I could hardly breathe. But when I got back to the dugout they gave me an orange and sprayed my nose. It picked me up."

Texas League Picks Coker

DALLAS, Sept. 12 (AP)—Jim Coker, who set a record for catchers by working 145 games and gained 12 pounds doing it, is the Rookie of the Year in the Texas League. He was a major cog in Tulsa's drive into the Texas League first division.

Coker, property of the Philadelphia Phillies, hit .243, had 26 doubles, one triple, 14 home runs and drove in 61 runs this season.

New Coach, Untried Talent Grid Story at Port Jervis

Fresh faces all around carry the football hopes of Port Jervis High this season.

The 'new look' even includes the coaching staff which Joe Viglione heads. Viglione was promoted from the assistant's job when Roger Robinson departed for Harvard University and greener pastures.

Viglione will have to carry on without eight regulars who were instrumental in leading the Red Raiders to a 4-won, 3-lost, 1-tie record in '56. The biggest holes to plug will be at fullback and end which were left open by the graduation of All-DUSO performers Vince Pagano and Bill Decker. Also gone are such stalwarts as Frank Boyd, Jim Malzahn and Bill Kulkelka, all backs, and linemen Hackett Bushweller, Dick Parsons and Bill Leicht.

Quarterback Rusty Devore, halfback Joe Curtis and center Bob Vecchio are the leading holdovers. Viglione will build around them and seniors Bruce Parons, a back, and Bob Doss, a lineman.

Speedy Halfbacks

Dick Theodore and Roger Gamo also figure prominently in Port's plans. Both are speedy halfbacks and have seen some varsity action.

The bulk of the squad are seniors, but without varsity experience which makes for a hurried rebuilding job for Viglione and his staff. His strategy is to parlay the vets with newcomers so as to insure a steady flow of experienced talent year after year.

Thirty players are working out daily for the opener Sept. 20 against Nyack at Glennette Field under the lights. Port launches its DUSO season the following week (Sept. 27) when it plays host to Kingston High in another arclighter.

Gordon Short, a graduate of Milikin University, has Viglione's old job and will handle the backfield. Floyd Robbins and Hillis McIlnay are other assistants.

Date	Opponent	Place

Sept. 27	Kingston	Home
Oct. 5	Poughkeepsie	Away
Oct. 12	NYMA	Home
Oct. 19	Newburgh	Home

HITTING—Hank Foiles, Pirates—Went 3-for-3 as No. 8 man in the batting order, driving in both runs with a home run and ninth-inning single that defeated the Braves 2-1 and halted Warren Spahn's winning streak at nine.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

I got a kick out of a letter we received from a lady who wanted to know how fly tiers mounted their hooks because she had plenty of flies buzzing around her barn that could be turned into a quick profit. She was serious.

I had to field that one on a TV interview one evening and it took most of a half hour show to explain that fishing flies are really made of feathers, and there are about 200,000 people in the United States who are wrapping their own.

A commercial or professional fly tier is an individual who makes a business of tying fishing flies or else is employed by some large tackle company for the same purpose. The flies are sold by direct contact to the retail stores and through trade jobbers.

Not Too Lucrative

Many people have the idea that tying flies is a profitable business. However, an accurate survey of the top professional fly tiers of the country showed that they are actually employed in some other business along with their fly tying. A few of the very top men might earn about $4,500 a year.

The market for the individual professional fly tier is set by style, type and quality of flies that he can produce. The price for the flies is governed by the market, plus some consideration of the number of flies he can tie in an hour.

Prior-O'Reilly Take Gross; Turck-Vogel Net Winners

Mrs. Frank Prior, 1957 club champion and her guest, Mrs. Edwin J. O'Reilly of The Twaalfskill Club, led the Wiltwyck Country Club women's Member-Guest tournament with a 91 gross Wednesday.

Mrs. Charles J. Turck and Mrs. Charles P. Vogel of Twaalfskill fired a low net of 69. Second place in the gross division went to Mrs. A. B. Shufeldt and Mrs. George L. Chilson with 92.

Miss Agnes Kennedy and Mrs. H. Roach posted 71 for second low net.

Mrs. Vogel won the special putting contest after the matches with a three-under par 33 for the 18-hole event. Tied at even par with 36 putts were Mrs. Shufeldt, Mrs. George C. Rifenbary and Mrs. Isaac Trowbridge.

Members and guests attended a luncheon following the events.

Giants Trade Moore to Colts

The trade of Henry Moore, a defensive halfback to the Baltimore Colts for a high draft choice in 1958 was announced yesterday by the New York football Giants.

Moore, injured during most of 1956, his rookie season, scored a touchdown in the championship playoff game with the Chicago Bears when he recovered a blocked punt. He was the Giants' No. 2 choice in the 1956 draft.

Also Rans Win Playoff Games

By The Associated Press

The worm turned with sudden decisiveness as the also-rans won the first games of the International playoff series over the first two teams in the final standings.

The Miami Marlins, who staggered into fourth place on the next to last day of the season, thumped champion Toronto 6-0, while Buffalo was soundly spanked by third-place Richmond, 6-3 in yesterday's games.

Righthander Ray Semproch, who was 12-4 and had the best won-lost percentage during the regular season, administered the Miami white-wash with a nine hitter.

Woody Smith, with three RBIs, led the Miami attack. He drove in two runs with a second inning homer after Marv Blaylock had singled.

Campbell Determined To Set New Record

CANANDAIGUA (AP) — Donald Campbell was ready once again today to gun his jet-powered Bluebird II to what he hopes will be a new water speed record.

Campbell last night piloted his boat to a comparatively leisurely average speed of 151 miles over the kilometer course on Canandaigua Lake. He set the present record of 225.63 in the Bluebird on Lake Coniston in England last year.

Campbell announced earlier this week that he would remain here until he sets a new record.

Role of Israel Bonds Explained Wednesday Night

Jehuda Hellman, international journalist and adviser on United Nations problems, addressed the Kingston State of Israel Bond Committee Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Levine, 105 Mountain View Avenue.

Hellman, who recently returned from Israel, described in glowing terms the new democracy which is now celebrating its 10th year of independence.

He said the new nation looks forward to the continuous, improvement of conditions of life for its two million inhabitants.

The central problem in Israel is the construction of housing for more than 100,000 refugees pouring into its ports from Hungary, Poland, Egypt and Morocco. They need a roof over their head and employment with dignity, he told the committee.

Help Home Building

He stressed the role of Israel bonds in building the homes and in providing employment to thousands of people.

In his recent tour of Israel he noted the amazing changes wrought in the nation's economic structure by Israel Bonds, he said.

He said the agricultural development of the country was phenomenal and its industries growing steadily.

He told the committee that the communities of the Middle East will eventually have to find ways and means of living in peace to insure their very existence.

Sales at New High

Alfred Ronder and Herman Rafalowsky, general chairmen of the local campaign, reported that bond sales were at a new high and that the community was responding enthusiastically.

They thanked the Levines for their hospitality and announced that sale of the bonds would continue until October 9.

Another series of functions is being planned, it was reported. Bonds may be purchased by contacting Ronder at 286 Clinton Avenue or Rafalowsky at 61 Albany Avenue.

Black Bear Seen Near Eddyville

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Carney of St. Remy reported to The Freeman today that a black bear, weighing "approximately 200 pounds," crossed over their lawn this morning and went toward the woods in the direction of Eddyville.

"I though at first it was an enormous black dog—it was larger than a St. Bernard. But Mr. Carney told me it was a black bear," Mrs. Carney said.

The Carney's were having breakfast when Mrs. Carney looked out the window and spied the animal.

"It couldn't have been more than 100 feet from the house" she said.

Mrs. Carney also said that the bear was walking (on all fours) toward the direction of a brook located in the woods. It was her contention that perhaps the lack of water lured the bear into the more populated area.

Aftermath of Crash

Woman Found Hanging Over Limb of Tree

HERKIMER (AP) — A motorist stopped last night to investigate some broken bushes and discovered an unconscious woman hanging over the limb of a tree along Route 28.

Mrs. Nellie May Miner's automobile had crashed through the bushes and down a 50-foot embankment. She was taken to Herkimer Memorial Hospital, where her condition was described as critical.

Herbert Parks Jr. of Herkimer told state police he was driving along the road about midnight when he noticed that the bushes looked as though there had been an accident.

Police said Mrs. Miner, 43, of nearby Newport, had been driving alone. The car apparently struck the tree and she was thrown to the limb, 20 feet above the ground, police said.

Atomic Washing Cuts Hot Water And Detergents

PARIS (AP)— A scientist from Britain's famed atomic installation at Harwell has come up with another peacetime use for atomic energy. It does laundry, he says, and without detergents or even hot water.

Dr. Henry Seligman described the procedure in a talk to some of the 1,000 delegates from 40 nations in Paris for the UNESCO-sponsored International Conference on Radioisotopes.

Experiments already are well under way, Seligman said, in which hospital bedding is receiving "radiation launderings."

"When hospital bedding is sterilized by ordinary methods," he explained, "it's still far from being free of bacteria which can cause infection. Moreover, bedding from surgical wards requires treatment in a steam autoclave. Two or three treatments in the autoclave and the blankets usually are ruined.

"But blankets can be sterilized by irradiation without an appreciable rise in temperature and an average blanket can survive at least 20 such 'washings.' "

Seligman said radiation, in large enough doses, can kill almost any kind of bacterial organism, thus insuring thorough sterilization. While some slight damage is done to the fibers over a period of time, irradiated fabrics do not become radioactive, he said.

It's still much to early to forecast what all this might mean for tomorrow's housewives, he added, but irradiation sterlization already is being applied to surgical dressings.

Parties Expected To Divide Wins in Jersey, Illinois

WASHINGTON (AP)— Republicans and Democrats are expected by Congressional election experts to divide victories in two special House elections coming up in New Jersey and Illinois.

They say they are not looking for any party overturns in a Nov. 5 election in New Jersey's second district or in the Dec. 31 voting in Illinois' seventh district.

The New Jersey vacancy results from the death last Dec. 26 of Republican Rep. T. Millet Hand, and that in Illinois from the death last July 18 of Democratic Rep. James B. Bowler.

If the same party lineup prevails in the districts, the elections will restore the House next January to a full membership of 234 Democrats and 201 Republicans.

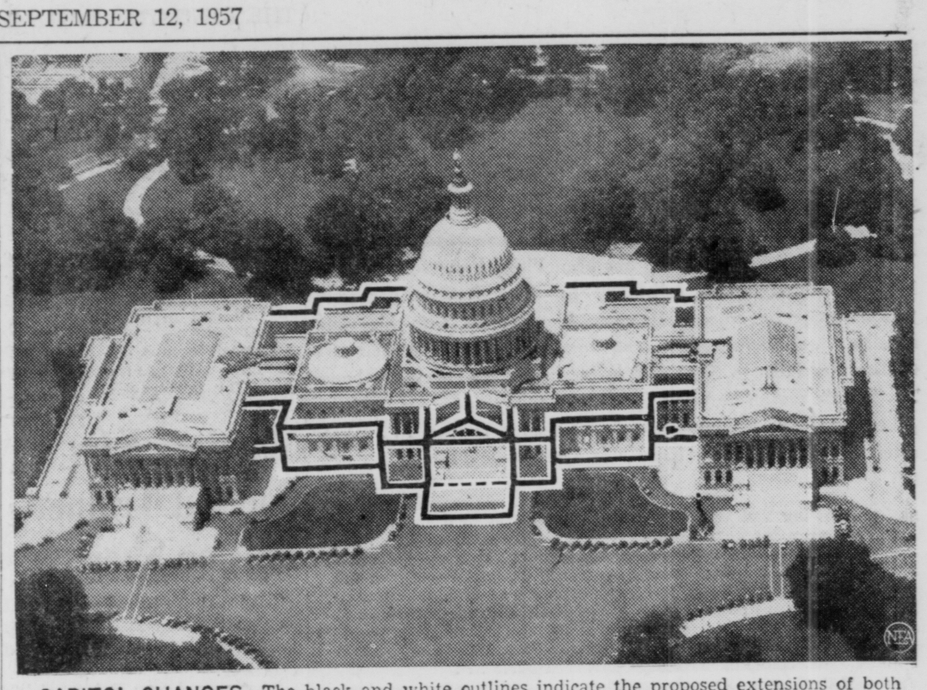

Candidates for Rep. Hand's seat in the heavily Republican district embracing New Jersey's Atlantic, Cape May and Cumberland Counties were picked in an April primary. They are State Assemblyman Milton W. Glenn (R), and Joseph G. Hancock (D), a farmer.

Experts had no reservations at all about Chicago's strongly Democratic seventh district staying in that party's column.

The district will hold a primary Nov. 12, but the GOP organization is offering no candidate. Two entrants who generally are not taken seriously are Lar Daly and Anthony Catena. The Democratic organization has put up state Sen. Roland V. Libonati. He is unopposed.

CAPITOL CHANGES—The black and white outlines indicate the proposed extensions of both the east and west "fronts" of the central part of Capitol between the House and Senate wings. The east front, facing parking area, would be extended 32½ feet to maintain its present profile. Portions of the west front would be moved outward to make a flush line for most of the central portion. The proposed "face lifting" would be part of a 110 million dollar program involving Capitol Hill changes. The proposal, result of a study authorized by Congress in 1955, also includes recommendations for a four-level, 1,900-car underground garage, costing 42 million dollars; a 4 million dollar subway system, and a million dollars worth of pedestrian tunnels linking the Capitol with the Supreme Court Building and the Library of Congress.

$50 Million 'Boo Boo' Charged in Tank Sale

SYRACUSE (AP) — A New York congressman says the United States shipped a large number of defective tanks to Germany in a "50-million-dollar federal boo-boo."

Rep. R. Walter Riehlman, a Republican member of the Congressional subcommittee on government operations, said yesterday the big tanks had never worked and probably never would.

Some 40 to 50 million dollars were involved in their purchase, he told reporters.

Riehlman mentioned the tanks as an example of why he considered it necessary for Congressmen to make investigative trips abroad.

Riehlman did not say whether the tanks were shipped for use by the West German or U. S. armies.

The number of tanks shipped was "tremendous", he said.

Riehlman is scheduled to leave for Europe Sept. 22 with the subcommittee to inspect U. S. military installations and the military supply system.

Built by Chrysler

Riehlman said the tanks were built by the Chrysler Corp.

House investigators said six weeks ago the Army handed Chrysler Corp. a virtual blank check in a billion-dollar tank-building program, spawned by the Korean War. Hundreds of the tanks received were faulty, the investigators said.

The military operations subcommittee asked the comptroller general to check on how well the Chrysler contracts served the government's interest.

The subcommittee declined to judge whether what it called the deficiences of the T43 heavy tanks were more than to be expected from a hurry-up output of a new weapon.

The subcommittee findings were contained in a report following hearings held in March.

None Penalized

The congressman from Tully said the Chrysler Corp. had disclaimed any responsibility for the "50-million-dollar federal boo-boo." The company claimed it produced "what was asked for," Riehlman said.

He said no Army officer, federal official or employe was penalized.

Riehlman said "acres" of the tanks were stored for a year and a half in Maryland before they were sent overseas. He said the Army had "trouble with the turrets" and that the tanks were "never balanced."

Meters Would Reduce Consumption

tive. The lowest estimate that has ever been procured is in excess of one million dollars," he said.

The obvious answer to "our problem," he indicated, is conservation.

Pangburn said the board had reasonably accurate cost figures on metering and "there will be no cash outlay to individual house owners."

$35 Per Meter

The cost of procuring and installing meters will be approximately $35 per installation for the average home, he indicated.

"Our board plans on purchasing meters on extended payment plan which meets with the approval of the State Department of Audit and Control. Purchasing the meters in this manner will obviate the necessity of a large cash outlay by the board.

Checking Legal Angles

"We have carefully investigated the various legal problems that will be encountered. They are many but your board has given much time and study to them and we believe they can all be solved."

In a discussion on cost to individual home owners, Pangburn issued this report:

1) Meter installation is a very simple operation.

2) It does not involve pipe changes, except in rare cases, or where the owner himself wishes to make changes.

3) Comparative studies of installation costs still being conducted by us and other communities will result in minimum costs.

4) We are convinced in the present state of our plans that any increase to average homes will not exceed 10 per cent; and in many instances reduced consumption will result in smaller water bills.

Discuss Cost

Alderman William K. Bodenweber (D) ninth ward said, "The people in my ward are not against meters but against the cash outlay." He asked Pangburn, "Why can't the board pay for them through the sale of water. It's not fair to saddle them with $30 or $35 additional expense."

Bodenweber asked if the Water Board had "a surplus on hand," and Commissioner Schatzel said the board "definitely does not have a surplus . . . prices are increasing every year and it should be considered that the cost of an additional capital expenditure of about $2,000,000 would increase the rate many times."

Bodenwater asked, "Where's the water going?" Schatzel said the individual is now using more water than three years ago.

Submits Rates

Alderman Ryan asked Superintendent Cloonan for the present rates on metered water and he submitted the following report as of April 1, 1954:

Minmum rate per quarter, $6.75; For 2,500 cubic feet, or any portion thereof in each quarter, $6.75; next 2,500 cubic feet, or any portion thereof, at per 1,000 cubic feet, $2.30; next 5,000 cubic feet or any portion thereof, at per 1,000 cubic feet, $1.65.

Next 10,000 cubic feet, or any portion thereof, at per 1,000 cubic feet, $1.05; next 80,000 cubic feet, or any portion thereof, at 1,000 cubic feet, 70 cents; next 400,000 cubic feet, or any portion thereof, at per 1,000 cubic feet, or any portion thereof, at per 1,000 cubic feet, 50 cents, and in excess of 500,000 cubic feet, at per 1,000 cubic feet, 40 cents.

Under Period Study

Alderman Ryan questioned the board on estimated meter charges under the proposed plan and Commissioner Schecter said such charges "are all under a period of study."

Alderman Richard Roth (R) 12th ward, asked Superintendent Cloonan for the IBM estimate on gallonage and the superintendent said that, under "the five year program they are using aproximately 1,000,000 gallons per day—or one sixth of the city's water supply."

Roth, who said "I'm not running for reelection, but just trying to protect my constituents," asked why the meters couldn't be installed at cost.

Reports on Gallonage

He then asked Cloonan about how many days supply and gallonage was available and was told approximately "4,000,000 gallons a day.....sufficient for industry and individual essential needs is a figure we would like to attain."

Cloonan said the present supply in Cooper Lake would last about another 30 or 40 days, "plus about another 12 days in the Zena reservoir."

Alderman Samuel J. Perry (R) fifth ward noted "that nobody can control the rains" and asked if Zena, which the Water Board announced last week is polluted, could be cleared.

Up to State

Cloonan said use of the Zena reservoir would have to be with the express consent and direction of the State Health Department and the State Water Power and Control Commission.

Perry, who noted "that we must pray for rain within 60 days," asked that the board take steps to "clear" the Zena reservoir, and Cloonan said such action would be taken.

Cloonan indicated that replenishing rains "usually run in a cycle," and that "I wouldn't want to make a definite forecast but it seems we can expect rain after this period of drought.

Alderman Roth asked about the possibility of "tapping the New York City aqueduct" as an additional source of supply. Cloonan said the feasibility of using that source had been taken under advisement and was being investigated.

Bodenweber said he "couldn't possibly see how meter installation will conserve water unless the rate is at such a high peak they (residents) would think twice before turning on the faucet."

Gives Comparisons

Cloonan cited a long list of cities in the 100,000 to 300,000 population across the nation, which have metered water and noted "their minimum is 57 gallons per capita and their maximum 119 gallons." He referred to a list of unmetered cities where "the minimum is 198 gallons per capita and the maximum 264."

Alderman William Keyser (R) second ward, said he felt sure "the meter is like a policeman" and contributes to conservation.

The latter part of the session, which consumed more than two hours—in which words and controversy flowed like water—was devoted to a discussion on banning all car washing.

Commission Approves

Interjected in the discussion was a letter from the State Water Power and Control Commission, read by Commissioner Schecter, which said in part:

"In our opinion the metering of a complete system is a laudable and worthwhile undertaking and should prove beneficial to the city and its citizens . . .

"In addition and perhaps the most important feature of overall metering is the fact that losses due to leakage could be more readily determined and corrected as the meter readings at the production end of the system should check the summation of consumer meter readings within a reasonable degree.

"From the foregoing it is readily apparent that the water resources of the community will be conserved as there will be a greater tendency and incentive on the part of the consumers to maintain their water using facilities in more nearly proper shape because of the realization that payment of costs is for the product actually used, and, in addition, leakage losses on the various mains more readily could be kept to some reasonably regligent future."

Insists on Car Ban

Motions for adjournment were forestalled twice as Bodenweber insisted he wanted an answer to his question on the banning of all car washing.

It was agreed, following a conference by the board, that all car washing would be restricted for the duration of the water shortage. So, the rain of words ended in adjournment.

Honolulu Population Up

HONOLULU (AP)—This city's civilian population has topped the 400,000 mark, the Bureau of Health Statistics reports.

The bureau's latest estimate of Honolulu population was 400,557, up 6.6 per cent from last year.

The territory's population, exclusive of the sizeable military community, was estimated at 539,309.

Red China Seeks Mutual Pact on Newsmen Visits

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—Communist China proposed today an American-Chinese agreement on mutual admission of newsmen "on an equal and reciprocal basis."

The proposal was formally presented by Ambassador Wang Ping-Nan at a meeting with U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson.

In Washington, diplomatic informants described the proposal as unacceptable but as one the United States would study for possible counter-moves.

Washington authorities interpreted the maneuver as designed either to force Secretary of State Dulles to back down on his stand against any reciprocal arrangement or else to put the United States on a propaganda spot by forcing it to reject the proposal.

No Deals Involved

The Eisenhower administration has decided that Red Chinese newsmen may be admitted to the United States but not as a result of any outright deal involving a direct agreement between Peiping and Washington.

The position stated by Dulles at a news conference is that if any Chinese reporters apply for permission to come here each application will be considered on its merits.

Washington authorities regarded the introduction of the newsmen issue at Geneva as being directly aimed at getting a formal reciprocal agreement between Washington and Peiping. If the Reds could get such a thing, U. S. officials feel, they might construe it as a United States move toward recognition.

The State Department in Washington announced Aug. 22 that it would permit representatives of 24 American news organizations (later increased to 26) to enter Red China on a temporary and "experimental" basis. There have been no U. S. newsmen regularly stationed on the Chinese mainland since the Reds took over in 1949.

On Aug. 25, however, the Peiping regime said the U. S. proposal was "completely unacceptable." Peiping demanded that Chinese newsmen be admitted to the United States and Washington promised to consider the idea, but the question remains stalemated.

Today's proposal was made at the 70th Johnson-Wang meeting in the last two years. Their next session will be held Oct. 10.

UN Expected To Condemn Russia Today

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Informed delegates predicted today the U. N. General Assembly will adopt a resolution condemning Soviet interference in Hungary late tomorrow.

They said that 50 or 55 of the 81 U. N. members would vote for the resolution, only the nine-nation Soviet bloc would vote against it and that 17 to 22 would abstain.

That would give it the approval of well over the necessary two-thirds of those voting — but less than the average of about 57 votes cast for the Assembly's 10 previous resolutions on Hungary.

Some delegates said there would be more abstentions this time because sponsors refused to eliminate a sentence saying the Assembly "condemns" the Soviet Union's acts in Hungary and its continued defiance" of earlier resolutions calling on Russian troops to withdraw.

The Assembly resumed debate on the resolution this morning.

The pending resolution also would ask Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand, Assembly president, to serve as the Assembly's special representative on the Hungarian problem and "take such steps as he deems appropriate."

One aim is to force Soviet troops that crushed the popular uprising in Hungary last fall to go home. Another aim is the establishment of political independence in Hungary.

Weather: Partly cloudy

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 58 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 79 degrees.

Weather Forecast

SHOWERS

Southeastern New York—Sunny this afternoon, partly cloudy tonight and chance of a few showers in western mountain areas. Friday, rather cloudy with scattered showers or thundershowers likely. Continued mild. High today and Friday 75 to the low 80s. Low tonight around 60. Winds light and variable this afternoon and tonight, becoming south to southwest 10-20 Friday.

Refrigerator Fire

Firemen were called at 5:25 p. m. Wednesday to check a fire in a refrigerator in the apartment of Mrs. John Weston, of 89 Henry Street. The refrigerator was removed outside and the motor removed by men of Engine 1 from Central Station.

Most of Soda Is Siphoned From Bottles

Officer Raymond Wells reported at 3:10 a. m. that a soda rack at the Socony Service Station, Broadway and Hoffman Streets, contained 22 bottles of soda which had been siphoned during the night.

The rack was described as one on which the top could be opened but the bottles remained locked in. Bottle caps were removed with a hand cap opener.

647 Receive Free X-Rays In Saugerties

A total of 647 people received free chest X-rays Wednesday at the firehall on Partition Street, Saugerties.

The mobile X-ray unit will be in Saugerties today and tomorrow. Hours are from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m. and from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m.

Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, Ulster County Commissioner of Health, today praised the excellent work of volunteers who spread word of the free X-rays in a house-to-house canvass in the Saugerties area.

Helped in Survey

The survey was handled by groups under the leadership of Mrs. John J. Wood, president of the auxiliary, VFW, Mrs. Anne McCormick of the Girl's Community Club, Mrs. Richard Hunter representing the nursing committee and Mrs. Donald Lawson, president of the Jaycees.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary under the direction of Mrs. William Schaffer, president, are serving as hostesses and registrars.

Supervisor Peter Williams made transportation arrangements through the cooperation of the Rotary Club. Miss Hazel M. Steed, RN, executive secretary of the Ulster County TB & Health Association, thanked the fire chief and staff for their assistance in setting up the unit and providing work space at the municipal building.

Through the cooperation of Dr. Grant Morse and Miss Spring of Saugerties High School many students over 15 received chest X-rays.

Miss Helen Melonson, public health nurse in Saugerties, is available at the health center between 9 and 10 a. m. and 4 and 5 p. m. daily.

Information regarding the free chest X-ray project may be obtained by calling the health center.

The program is sponsored by the Departments of Health of New York state and Ulster county through tax funds and by the Ulster County TB & Health Association through the sale of Christmas seals.

Economists Are Called to Decide DuPont-GM Break

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Justice Department's antitrust division has called in outside economists to help figure out how to divorce Du Pont and General Motors with the least impact upon the economy.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Victor R. Hansen, head of the antitrust division, disclosed today that the economists will help in preparation of recommendations for ending the long-time Du Pont-GM relationship in accordance with a Supreme Court decision last June.

But, Hansen stressed, "We definitely have not arrived at any recommendation."

While Hansen declined to speculate as to what the ultimate recommendations might be, informed sources generally agreed that Du Pont would not be required to dump its 23 per cent holding of GM stock onto the market all at once. Du Pont's 65 million shares of GM stock are valued at about $2,700,000,000 — too much, everyone agrees, for the market to digest easily in a short time.

Likewise, there was general agreement that the Justice Department would insist not only that Du Pont yield its working control of GM, but that it also give up any influence in the affairs of the No. 1 auto maker.

Economists working with the antitrust division on the case are Dean Ewald T. Grether of the graduate school of business administration, University of California, and Carl Kaysen, an associate professor of economics at Harvard. Their views were sought because of the economic problems involved.
